QUICK NOTES

- The Wildcats head into Clemson fresh off a 3-1 weekend at the Joan Joyce Classic, owning a three-game win streak.
- Villanova has earned one of the league's top awards in each of the first two weeks, with Maranda Runco earning BE Player of the Week post-week one and Lexi Kobryn picking up BE Pitcher & Freshman of the Week after FAU.
- When VU meets Clemson on Friday, the 'Cats will face their fourth opponent of the season that's receiving Top 25 votes, following A&M, Baylor and Florida Atlantic.
- VU has played against each of this weekend's opponents in program history, all three being in the opposite dugout in the past five years.
- Elon is the most recent opponent of these three for the Wildcats, defeating Villanova 7-6 in eight innings at Duke last year. Ava Franz accounted for three runs with two doubles last time against the Phoenix.
- Only two returners saw playing time in 2022's bouts against Marshall, Franz earning a pair of starts at third base while Alexa Raphael scored her first collegiate run as a pinch runner in the 9-1 victory.

VILLANOVA HEAD COACH BRIDGET ORCHARD

Unprecedented success has followed Villanova head coach Bridget Orchard at every step of her softball career beginning with her playing days as an All-Star infielder for the Wildcats and continuing with an incredible level of success on a national level during her head coaching career. Orchard is in her seventh season leading her alma mater in 2025 and her 28th season as a collegiate head coach overall. She began the season with a career record of 934-542-3 (.633), including 182-122 (.599) over her first six seasons back in the Villanova dugout.

As of 2024, Orchard's Wildcats has been the top program in the conference since her arrival back to campus, owning the most overall and BIG EAST wins since 2019. And the 2024 campaign lived up to that billing with the 'Cats winning their third BIG EAST title ever and making a deeper run in the NCAA Tournament than ever before. It was a historic season from the very beginning of conference play with the Wildcats starting the BIG EAST slate on a nine-game win streak and storming their way to the first league regular season title and most BIG EAST wins in program history. Villanova entered the conference championship as the #1 seed and proved it, sweeping its three opponents and capturing a third title in just five full seasons under Orchard.

The New York native returned to her alma mater after 17 seasons at Fordham, leading the Rams to unprecedented success with eight NCAA regional berths, over 600 wins and seven A-10 Coach of the Year awards to her name. Orchard previously spent four seasons at Cabrini right after her graduation from VU, winning nearly 130 games and earning election to the college's hall of fame.

Orchard was a star at Villanova from the very beginnings of her association with Wildcats program. Her arrival as a freshman second baseman in 1994 coincided with the first year of regular season BIG EAST softball competition. Orchard hit safely in each of the first 14 games of her collegiate career, a feat which had not been accomplished before and has not been matched since by a Villanova player.

VILLANOVA SOFTBALL GAME NOTES

GAME NOTES

VILLANOVA SOFTBALL

- This is the 49th season of varsity softball for the Wildcats, who have not missed a BIG EAST Championship game in six years under this coaching staff. The conference title winners in 2021, 2022 and 2024, Villanova is coming off its third league trophy in the Bridget Orchard era. The softball program was formed during the 1970s and it is believed that 1977 was the first year of varsity competition, although the fledgling Wildcats had an official roster and played games prior to the 1977 season. Using that year as a starting point, the program's all-time record entering the 2025 season is 1,188-937-13 (.544). Since 2019 and the start of the Orchard VU head coaching era, the Wildcats have compiled the most overall (181) and BIG EAST wins (77) of any program in the league.

BRIDGET ORCHARD, BOSS OF THE BIG EAST

- Ever since Orchard's return to Villanova as the head coach in 2019, the Villanova softball program has been a force to be reckoned with. In each of Orchard's five full seasons at the helm of her alma mater, the Wildcats have appeared in the conference championship game. The opening year under the '97 alumna featured a runner-up finish before back-to-back league titles in 2021 and 2022, the first BIG EAST championships and NCAA berths ever for Villanova. Hailed as the Co-Coaching Staff of the Year in her 27th year as a head coach, Orchard, along with her longtime assistant Gabby Luety and then-first year pitching coach Grace Fagan, brought the third title in four years back to the Main Line with last year's victories, and again see themselves as a league frontrunner in 2025.

FORESEEING A FRONTRUNNER

- For the second straight year, the Villanova Wildcats are projected as the league favorites according to a preseason poll of BIG EAST softball coaches. The reigning conference champion and winners of three of the last four titles, Orchard's Villanova unit picked up top honors in the 2025 BIG EAST Softball Preseason Poll with six of a possible eight first place votes and 61 total points, edging out Connecticut for the top spot by four points. With a proven track record in just five full seasons under Orchard, VU earned two-thirds of the overall first place votes as UConn (two) and Creighton (one) also garnered attention for the lead honors. The coaches predict a bit of parity across the top of the league with four squads generating over 40 points, including UConn (57), St. John's (46) and Creighton (43) in addition to Villanova, while Seton Hall fell just outside that threshold (39).

KILLER KOBRYN

- For the second straight week, Villanova softball picked up one of the conference's top honors as first-year Lexi Kobryn was named the BIG EAST Pitcher & Freshman of the Week. Kobryn earned the league's top pitcher and freshman honors by dominating in the circle for the Wildcats, tossing a pair of complete game shutouts for two wins at the Joan Joyce Classic. The first-year right-hander allowed just six hits and three walks across 14 innings pitched, striking out eight and moving her season record to 3-0. The New Jersey native shut down the nation's No. 25 team in a 1-0 victory over Florida Atlantic, surrendering just six baserunners with four strikeouts in an upset win. Kobryn equaled the feat on Sunday, going the distance in a 3-0 W over Dartmouth for a two-hit complete game shutout.

FAMILIAR FOES

- The Wildcats are acquainted with all of three opponents at the Clemson Classic, meeting each team at least once in the last five seasons with two squads facing VU twice in history. Villanova took down Clemson at the Disney Citrus Classic in 2020, the lone one-time opponent of this week. Elon has appeared opposite the 'Cats twice, Phoenix wins in 2006 and last year at Duke. Marshall split with the Wildcats at 2022's Buzz Classic, the only remaining 'Cats who appeared were Ava Franz and Alexa Raphael.

FOUR WILDCATS NAMED TO ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

- For the second time in as many years, Villanova softball had a unanimous First Team All-BIG EAST selection as infielder Lilly St. Jean was one of just four league athletes unanimously selected to the 2024 all-conference squads. The Wildcats tied for a league-high with three players on the conference's second team in Ava Franz, Elaina Wagner and now-graduated Ally Jones while the VU staff picked up Co-Coaching Staff of the Year. After leading the Wildcats to their most conference wins ever, head coach Orchard and assistants Luety and Fagan earned BIG EAST Co-Coaching Staff of the Year. The 'Cats swept five of their conference series and finished three wins better than the league's second place team. Villanova led the BIG EAST in slugging and on-base percentage, RBI, home runs, total bases and walks in 2024 en route to the program's first ever regular season title.

INSIDE THE ACCOLADES

- St. Jean earned her first career BIG EAST accolade after leading the Wildcats with a .400 batting average in her 22 conference games, putting up a team-high 11 doubles and 27 runs batted in during league play. The sophomore slugged four home runs with a .754 slugging percentage in conference tilts, scoring 18 runs against BIG EAST opposition.
- Franz picked up all-conference honors in the second straight season after going on a tear to finish out the year, ending up with a .306 batting average against BIG EAST opponents after a 22-hit, 18-run league campaign. The junior shortstop led the squad with seven homers and 50 total bases in BIG EAST play while driving in 25 runs and contributing six other extra-base hits.
- Wagner earned her first BIG EAST season accolade after exploding onto the scene for Villanova, gathering a team-high 28 hits while accumulating 39 total bases, eight doubles and 15 runs scored. The junior from New York amassed a team-best 16-game reached-base streak in conference matchups, adding six two-hit games as the starting right fielder.

THE FACTS ON FRANZ

- As has been tradition throughout her career at VU, Franz has been a tone setter near the top of the Villanova order. The Chichester High product has hit .375 through her first 24 at bats of 2025, totaling nine hits with a team-high eight runs and seven walks in addition to two homers, 16 total bases and a .667 slugging percentage. Franz is the only player on the team to reach base safely in every game so far (nine), currently owning a season-high four-game hitting streak with three two-hit outings. The senior has also played a flawless shortstop, racking up a 1.000 fielding percentage with 11 putouts and 14 assists on the year so far.

NEW LOOK NOVA? NOT ENTIRELY

- It will be a slightly new look in 2025 with the 'Cats graduating six long-time starters from last year's roster, including five-year stalwarts Ally Jones, Victoria Sebastian and Chloe Smith in addition to all-time saves leader Caroline Pellicano, 2023 BIG EAST Player of the Year Tess Cites and 2024 ace Alyssa Seidler. But there are a number of returning contributors in addition to the three reigning all-conference members, namely redshirt senior and 2024 home runs leader Brooklyn Ostrowski, a pair of veteran pitchers in Kat Gallant and White and a promising sophomore class featuring speedy slap-hitter Elizabeth Gray and the powerful, versatile Grace Reed plus a breakout candidate in part-time pitcher, full-time long ball threat Maranda Runco.

THE ROOKIE RAP

- Six newcomers joined the Wildcats for the 2025 season, including a five-person freshman class and one junior transfer. The expectations are high for many of the first-years, with two positional starters from the group in addition to a trio of promising pitchers. New York native Ava Mahnken, the No. 31 prospect in her class nationally, took the mantle as starting catcher, while St. Anthony's product Jaclyn Morra has started seven games at the hot corner. A trio of first-year right handers will be mixed into the rotation, with two-time high school league MVP Kobryn expected to contribute lots of innings while multi-time all-state selection Sophia Mount and Maryland native Maddy Burns each provide depth in the circle for the 'Cats in 2025. Bryant & Stratton (Virginia Beach) transfer Bella Wren comes to the Main Line as a junior and gives Villanova a much-needed third catcher.
