BUFF ORPINGTON $4.00

Large, stately golden birds of quiet disposition. Their heavy, full plumage makes them excellent winter layers, shelling out brown eggs right thru cold weather.

COLUMBIAN WYANDOTTE $4.75

An unusual and attractive variety with deep, well rounded bodies, close set combs and medium size. They are good layers of brown eggs, and feature contrasting black & white plumage.

BLACK AUSTRALORP $4.25

One of the best light-brown egg layers of all the heavy breeds. Large, quiet and gentle birds display glossy black feathers with a greenish purple sheen.

BUFF COCHIN $4.75

A massive Asiatic breed covered with an extraordinary abundance of soft, fluffy, golden buff feathers from tip to toe. They have an excellent disposition, weather the cold well, and lay brown eggs.

DOMINIQUE $4.75

A distinctly American breed, dating way back to the early days in New England. They have rose combs, medium sized bodies, prominent tails, and black and white barred plumage. Layers of large brown eggs

RED LEGHORN $4.75

A rare and unusual Mediterranean breed, with rich, red plumage. The hens lay a tinted white egg and are practically non-setters.
