I have been working in the IT industry for more than four years and have already gone through many stages of professional development. My journey in the tech world started as a Lead Generation Manager, and then continued as a Project Manager and Scrum Master. Now my goal is to get new certifications and improve my skills as a manager in order to realize myself and help the projects and people I work with become better every day.

Professional Skills

- Holding negotiations and communication between all stakeholders
- Crisis management
- Agile project management including the Scrum and Kanban frameworks
- Strong soft skills and ability to “be on the same page” with people around
- Providing new ideas
- Visualization and structuration of information
- Presentation skills and active listening
- Ability to work under stress
- No fear of failure and ability of working on mistakes
- Ability to get the work done
- Understanding the business value of the project
