X-RAY

The Last Mermaid

Dive into myth and folklore with our latest issue of the «X-Ray» series. Mermaids, or sirens, evoke both peril and benevolence in various traditions. From the haunting beauty of Greek sirens to Hans Christian Andersen's poignant tale of «The Little Mermaid», their appeal persists. The front features a mermaid with detailed polished scales and imposing ships in the backdrop. Meanwhile, the back exhibits a sophisticated application of colour, presenting a near-realistic portrayal of an X-ray image of the «Last Mermaid».

IRON MAIDEN Killers

With true attention to detail, we present the album cover of Iron Maiden's second album «Killers» from 1981. The sinister Eddie on the cover, swinging a bloody axe over his victim, is a stunning visual interpretation of the title of this musical masterpiece. This second album was a significant turning point for Iron Maiden. It was the last album with their former singer Paul Di'Anno, who was replaced during the tour by the current frontman Bruce Dickinson.

IRON MAIDEN

Powerslave

Iron Maiden, one of the most successful heavy metal bands in the world, released their 5th studio album «Powerslave» in September 1984. Derek Riggs' brilliantly illustrated album cover portrays Eddie, the band's mascot, stylised as a pharaoh from ancient Egypt. The record was their second million-selling hit after 1983's «Piece of Mind», from which two successful singles were released – «2 Minutes to Midnight» and «Aces High». However, what truly sets «Powerslave» apart are not just the thundering beats and electrifying riffs, it is the enigmatic allure of the cover. A cryptic riddle centered around Egyptian mythology which has fascinated fans for decades and draws them in to decode its secret messages.

REAL HEROES - 1 OZ GOLD

Astronaut

Our final release in the «Real Heroes» series honours the monumental efforts of space explorers like Yuri Gagarin and Neil Armstrong. Complementing the black proof silver edition, four premium editions will further expand the series. With the portrait of an astronaut standing upon the lunar surface, we strive to capture the essence and the scale of these human achievements. Additionally, the quote «The sky is not the limit» is micro minted on the rim. These limited-edition masterpieces honour the courage, innovation, and pioneering spirit of those who dare to venture beyond the boundaries of our world.

REAL HEROES - 1 OZ PLATINUM

Astronaut

The 1 oz gold and platinum issues are a top minting achievement due to the visor's mirror look, combined with maximum curvature and relief height.

LUNAR YEAR COLLECTION

Nimble Silver Snake

Lunar Year coins are highly popular with collectors, and the annual CIT issues have become all-time favourites. The 2025 release honours the «Year of the Snake». For thousands of years snakes have been perceived as creatures of deceit and malice in various cultures, yet in China they are held in high regard. Many Chinese gods are intertwined with them, such as Nuwa, who sculpted mankind from clay. She is often portrayed with a serpent's body and a human head. As in prior years, three exquisite and highly sought-after releases are presented. Including a spectacular, 3-dimensionally sculpted, free-standing 1-ounce silver coin, which, thanks to its antique-finish surface, can be held safely in hand as a lucky charm. Furthermore, a 5-gram silver banknote and a half-gram gold proof coin.

Yin & Yang

Yin and Yang are concepts from Chinese philosophy describing the duality and interdependence of two opposing forces or principles. Yin represents the dark, passive, and cool, whereas Yang symbolises the light, active and warm. The Yin-Yang symbol displays a perfect balance between these two forces and emphasises the harmony and balance in nature and the universe. This principle has been wonderfully realised with a combination of proof and black proof surfaces. The two moons, who happen to be the highest elements of the coin, form impressive contrasting elements. By day, the moon hides in the shadows, while at night it shines brightly in the starry sky. Thanks to our smartminting® ultra high relief technology, the dark clouds merge seamlessly into the detailed tree of life and reveal a harmonious world where man and nature live in peaceful harmony.

WOODLAND SPIRITS

Bear

With the 7th edition of the «Woodland Spirits» series, we embark on an exciting journey exploring the world of bears. These impressive animals make their home in dense forests, mountain regions, coastal areas and in Mongolia even in the Gobi Desert. Since the Mongolians regard their bear, known as the Gobi bear or Mazalaai, as a national treasure, even the Mongolian government supports the protection of this subspecies of brown bear. Enjoy the stunning sight of this remarkable icon of the animal kingdom amidst representatives of the winter flora.

WILD MONGOLIA – COPPER

Snow Leopard

We proudly present our latest issue in the «Wild Mongolia» series – the snow leopard. Its ability to perfectly blend in with the harsh conditions of Mongolian landscape makes it a prime example of survival and adaptability. The snow leopard inhabits mountains at altitudes of up to 5,500 meters.

Apart from the majestic portrayal of the animal's front and side profile, the polished claws, and tilted coat of arms on the back are equally eye-catching. The elegant wild cat is represented on two additional luxurious issues in copper and black proof silver.

NUMISMATIC ICONS - SILVER

Gryphon

The majestic griffin adorns our 5th issue of the popular «Numismatic Icons» series. In Greek mythology, this captivating hybrid of eagle and lion is regarded as guardian of gold and protector of precious treasures. As one of the most cherished mythological beings of the Middle Ages, the Griffin remains a popular heraldic symbol to this day. The birthplace of these impressive Griffin coins is the ancient Thracian city of Abdera. The griffin is accompanied by the cicada, a popular additional motif on numerous ancient coins. The CI numerals follow the tradition of ancient Greek coinage to indicate the respective place of origin. As usual, the edition includes three fantastic specifications in silver and gold.

RECONSTRUCTION

Elephant

Modern minting technology meets majestic grandeur! The result is an exceptionally surreal animal portrait in ultra-high relief. Thanks to smartminting® technology, the elephant rises across several levels through multiple silver segments. They even break through the boundaries of the coin's edge and create a new, uniquely shaped work of art. Sophisticated ethnic design elements build a thematic bridge to the origins of this magnificent animal. A tribute to the imposing giants of Africa with their untamed «Savanna Power».
