Sea Monster

A worthy successor to the Mermaids, this coin plunges into the thrilling world of pirates. A fearsome sea monster, masterfully crafted in relief and enhanced with smooth enamel, rises from the depths, its tentacles destroying ships amidst swirling debris. The torn ship's flag, with its inverted inscription, adds a mystical touch, evoking the terrors of the pirate era. Depicting a fateful clash between rival ships and a monstrous attack, this coin features intricate relief, partial antique finish, and vivid enamel, making it a must-have for collectors of dramatic sea adventures.

Arachno-phobia

The second issue of the «Phobias» series deals with the fear of spiders. Some people can't understand it while others run away screaming as soon as one of these eight-legged creatures approaches them. Yet only very few species are dangerous to humans. This coin plays with the theme in an impressive way. An oversized, terrifying spider emerges from a concave shape. Only a small part of the hairy leg penetrates the enamel, separating the monster from the innocent girl and her worst nightmare. This edition polarizes and fascinates at the same time.

Originally from North America and Eurasia, Bison are among the largest and strongest wild cattle on earth. Known for their dense coats, distinctive shoulder curvature and their robust survival in extreme climates, Bison play an important ecological role shaping the landscape through their grazing habits which create habitats for other species. The impressive animal is brought to life by the combination of detailed design and a deliberate use of high relief and subtle coloring.

The Cliff

This is the third issue in this popular abstract series. Inspired by the famous «Giant's Causeway» in Ireland, hexagons of different heights can be found all over the coin. In addition to this volcanic wonder on the Irish coast, naturally formed hexagons adorn our blue planet in a wide variety of places. From the striking basalt columns of Devils Postpile National Monument in California to the basic shapes of snow crystals, juxtaposed soap bubbles or, perhaps most famously, the beehive.

Anchor

Rough Storms

This issue marks the end of the successful series, which we close by returning to the beginning in terms of design. The anchor has a broad meaning. It symbolizes stability, solidity and protection, as it keeps a ship safely in the water and prevents it from drifting away. It stands for stability in difficult times, but also for the interplay of a thirst for adventure and the desire for a safe return. Our final edition impresses with its exciting combination of different qualities. Black proof finish in the background, partial gold plating of the anchor and other matt design elements make this coin something very special.

Taj Mahal

Completed in 1648, the Taj Mahal in Agra, India, was built by Shah Jahan in memory of his wife Mumtaz Mahal. Its iconic white marble dome, intricate minarets, and gemstone inlays attract millions of visitors annually. This freestanding coin, the 4th in the series, features ultra-high relief and antique finish, showcasing the Taj Mahal's architectural brilliance and interior views of the tomb. A numismatic masterpiece celebrating eternal love.

Pompeii

Pompeii was a flourishing ancient Roman city near modern-day Naples in Italy that was destroyed by the eruption of the volcano Vesuvius in 79 AD. The eruption buried the city under a thick layer of ash, pumice and lava, leaving it virtually untouched for centuries. This impressive coin shows exactly this tragic moment of the eruption. On one side is Vesuvius, depicted in relief almost 10 mm high thanks to the smartminting® 4.0 technique. You can clearly see the deadly lava flows making their way into the city depicted at the foot of the volcano. Two gladiators fighting in the nearby arena have no idea of the threat that is inexorably approaching. This coin is an impressive snapshot, both historically and above all, technically.

Hawaii

Kilo Edition

Aloha and welcome to Kauai, the garden island of Hawaii! The volcanic island is not only famous for its lush vegetation and impressive variety of plants, but also for its spectacular red rocks and cliffs, formed by millions of years of erosion and volcanic activity. Pictured is an original section of one of the oldest Hawaiian Islands. As with its predecessor, the Grand Canyon, the ultra-deep relief is created thanks to smartminting® technique. But it is the realistic coloring that makes this coin a numismatic wonder of nature. This 1-kilogram edition is limited to only 77 pieces.

New York

You have never seen Times Square like this before. Not on a coin, that's for sure. This is undoubtedly the most famous place in Manhattan, captured in all its glory with a fisheye lens. This is a very special perspective. The inverted shape of the coin, combined with the ultra-deep relief, enhances this effect. The delicate colorization creates an impressive contrast to the sky, which reflects it like a mirror. In that moment, this hectic place is transformed into a peaceful oasis.

The coin features a highly detailed section of the original city map with polished streets as a contrast, the defining look of the series. The city's most important buildings, such as the White House and the Capitol, are depicted in ultra-high relief. The renowned Potomac River and the Anacostia River are depicted on this coin through an integrated Tiffany glass piece. The obverse side features the Arlington Memorial Bridge, which was opened in 1932 and symbolizes the unity between the North and South of the USA after the Civil War.

Samurai

Following on from the tremendous success of the Iron Knight, the next impressive fighter is the samurai. A samurai was a member of the warrior class in feudal Japan who played a central role in Japanese society from around the 12th to the 19th century. They wore special armor and were the best experts in the use of weapons, especially the katana, a curved long sword that was considered a symbol of their class. Today, they stand for discipline, honor and martial arts worldwide. This ultra-high relief coin shows in an extraordinary way the intricate details of the armor and the determined, fearsome look of the fighter, making him a very real opponent. And all in proof quality and with partial nanoshine elements.

Matterhorn

2 Kilo Edition

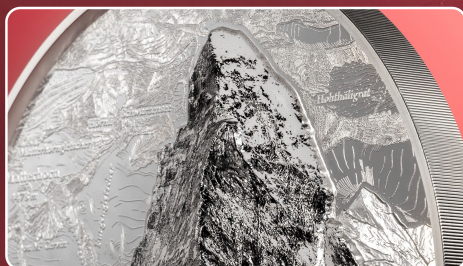

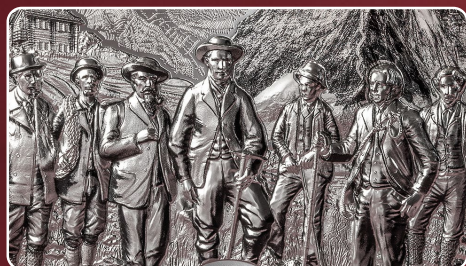

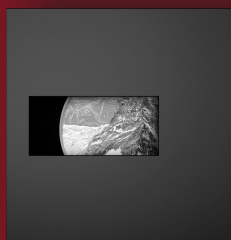

The Matterhorn, with its almost perfectly symmetrical pyramid peak, is one of the most famous mountains in the world. It is a challenge even for the most experienced mountaineers and has claimed the lives of more than 500 climbers. At a height of 4,478 meters (14,692 feet), it is one of the highest peaks in the Alps and Europe. It was not conquered until 1865, when a group led by Edward Whymper reached the summit. This coin tells the exciting and tragic story of the first ascent – with many details.

The coin's edge is engraved with Edward Whymper's famous quote from the summit: «At 1.40 p.m. the world was at our feet, and the Matterhorn was conquered. Hurrah! Not a footstep could be seen.» 4 of the 7 members of the team lost their lives on the descent. In their memory, these fearless men are immortalized on the reverse. This impressive, numbered 2 kg coin with a diameter of 140 mm is limited to only 50 pieces worldwide.

The coin features an exclusive coloration and an impressive relief of 14 mm on the reverse and 5 mm on the obverse, made possible by the innovative smartminting® technique. And the coin is only 12 mm thick. You can almost hear the wind howling around its massive structure.
