X-Ray

Creation of Adam

On the heels of our recent X-ray adventure in Egypt, we visit Rome, one of the centres of art in Italy for the 3rd edition of the series. The depicted image of almost touching hands derives from a renowned ceiling fresco by the Italian painter Michelangelo in the Sistine Chapel in Rome. The divine breath of life leaps from God's finger to the one of a human. This famous gesture represents the Creation of Adam – the first man. Next to the hands of God and his divine creation, a part of another monumental work by Michelangelo – The Last Judgement – is revealed.

Masters of Art

Claude Monet

Pursuing our love for art, we are overjoyed to reveal another world-renowned painter as the 2nd member of «The Masters of Art» series. Claude Monet, 14 November 1840 – 5 December 1926, was one of the founders of French Impressionist painting. He embraced the movement's philosophy of expressing one's perceptions before nature, particularly in landscape painting. The master of art was particularly fond of the water lilies growing in the pond of his garden in Giverny. Monet composed several water lily series on the mentioned French estate, resulting in roughly 250 individual paintings until the end of his life. The painting in the background of Claude's self-portrait is on view in all its splendour at the Musée Marmottan Monet in Paris.

Big City Lights

Sydney

With the 2nd edition of our successful «Big City Lights» series, we honour the Australian metropole Sydney. Over 5 million Sydneysiders, as the city's residents are referred to, spend their days and nights in Australia's largest city. Besides the incredible coastline and iconic Bondi Beach, a world-famous landmark earns a special spot on our coin – the Sydney Opera House. The architectural marvel, with its design famously reminiscent of ship's sails in the harbour, was inaugurated by Queen Elizabeth II 50 years ago in 1973. Not to be overlooked is the sheer size of the opera house. At 185 metres long and 120 metres wide, it has roof sections weighing up to 15 tonnes and more than a million tiles on its dazzling roof.

1023 – 2023

Mont-Saint-Michel

Surrounded by wide sandbanks or, at high tide, by sea water, the unique silhouette of Mont-Saint-Michel crowns the secluded mount off the coast of Normandy. Recognised as a famous landmark, place of pilgrimage and UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1979, it is a captivating photo subject and popular visitor attraction in France. Since the first construction work on the Benedictine abbey in 966, the complex was continuously expanded until it was partly destroyed by fire in 1203 after the attempted conquest of the mount by King Philip II. The latter compensated the monks by funding the construction of the showpiece of the monument – the magnificent monastery known as La Merveille (the Wonder).

Spinning Coin

We are proud to unveil a unique and magnificent new work of art – the spinning top. It is one of the earliest recognizable toys found at archaeological sites. Spinning tops originated independently in different cultures across the world, with some specimens believed to be up to 6,000 years old. The Romans even crafted spinning tops from boxwood or terracotta. Back then, they were not only used as toys, but also for games of chance and prophecy. Nowadays, spinning tops serve the purpose of entertainment and high spirits. And, of course, the competition to see who can spin it the longest.

The Wave

The successor to the technical marvel «The Rock» has shed its sharp angled edges and corners. With the 2nd edition to the series, we leave the rugged, jagged landscape behind and enter a smooth fluid state, the element of water.

«The Wave» shines with an exceptionally silky, nearly melting like surface appearance and makes a unique contribution to this series.

Most Haunted Places

The Stanley

In 1909, when inventor Freelan Oscar Stanley first opened the opulent Stanley Hotel in Estes Valley, Colorado, visitors were enthralled by the palatial building and the surrounding rural landscape of the valley. After years of success, by the 1970s the hotel had fallen into grave disrepair and was a mere shadow of its former self. A bizarre and fateful chain of events involving the now famous author Steven King saved the Stanley from the wrecking ball. In a lucid nightmare, while staying in room 217, he dreamt of a coiled fire hose coming to life chasing his screaming son through the halls of the hotel. The Stanley's connection to King's terrifying night, which resulted in his successful book «The Shining», is the hotel's most famous creepy occurrence. But strange and supposedly paranormal incidents were reported at the hotel well before the 1970s, some specifically in room 217.

Following our joyful outings on the high seas, in lofty heights and on wide roads, we are now traveling on rails with the 5th edition of the endeared «The Journey» series. How marvelous when loved ones wave goodbye on the platform and see the smoke billowing from the chimney as the metal giant slowly rumbles and rattles off into the wide world. Long before the most famous wizard travelled aboard the Hogwarts Express or Hercule Poirot pursued murderers in the luxurious Orient Express, one of mankind's most remarkable inventions sparked progress, adventure, and excitement – the steam locomotive.

Woodland Spirits

Chipmunk

We proudly celebrate the 6th edition of our beloved «Woodland Spirits» series with the Siberian Chipmunk. In the wild, it prefers coniferous forests, rocky areas in woodlands or along streams in northern Europe, Mongolia, Russia, China and Japan as its habitat. These fluffy looking rodents usually live solitary lives, however, during winter they create a burrow, often sharing it with a fellow chipmunk. Behold this cute little chap cuddling up in the autumn leaves – a familiar feature of the series.

Black Swan

With this new addition to our portfolio, we visually embody the natural balance with the representation of opposites. On the front, the classic white swan parades its flattering plumage, whereas the back features a unique black swan. No doubt the rare sight of black swans is owed to the fact they are only very seldom found beyond Australia and New Zealand. The natural balance is wonderfully mirrored with this beautiful piece of art.
