

BOARDROOM:

Zine by Free Float

JUNE 15 2026

ISSUE #34

Publicly traded dad jokes for every occasion. Also, Goldman Sachs thinks Jeffrey Epstein is so 2025. Plus, tech bros bless the octagon with their middle school boy vibes. Don't worry, there's hope: lady judges are the last bastion of the resistance. Finally, S&P didn't cave.

CORPORATE DAD JOKES: TRILLIONAIRE ED

Q: What do you call someone who doesn't trust you to have power, thinks you're an asshole, thinks you're generally shitty at your job, and gives you all their money?

A: A institutional investor! Musk set his own price ($135) at a $2tn valuation despite no profit and using a set of technologies paid for by the US government that have existed for 30+ years, forced Wall Street to buy Grok to underwrite it, gave investors no information, has near total control of the company, and keeps all the money for himself!

Q: When is a rule not a rule?

A: When NASDAQ makes them! NASDAQ went for the quick buck by breaking all its own rules to put SpaceX on its indexes! Congrats, we all get to own it now!

Q: How much money does it take to buy a board member?

A: $100 billion! Antonio Gracias, who sat on Tesla, Neuralink, Boring Company, and SolarCity boards, and is totally objectively and independent director at SpaceX, netted $100bn after the SpaceX IPO! But don't worry, he's on the compensation committee, too!

Q: What do you call a board that hates itself and can't stick to a plan?

A: a BP! Though in fairness, only Tushar Morzaria even REMAINS from five years ago – easy to rip up a plan when there's no one there to defend it!

Q: What does a big stupid quitter look like?

A: GM and its CEO Mary Barra ! After a big 'ole glow up that included Time Magazine calling her a “change agent”, Barra is change-agenting away from something people want (EVs) and toward something no one wants (data centers)! If only all sudden pivots were so loathesome!

Q: Knock knock? (Who's there?) You're fired! (You're fired who?)

A: Oops, sorry we fired you, turns out AI is expensive! Turns out that removing tens of thousands of employees for the “benefits” of AI was actually a trade out of diversification and into market consolidation – for vendors. Companies are getting their first bills from the AI bros, including one company that spent half a billion accidentally. Maybe humans aren't so bad?

Q: FMK: Screwworm, DOGE, Elon Musk?

A: Elon fucked you already! Musk's DOGE efforts not only saved almost zero dollars, it gutted the agencies that protected us from things like Ebola and screwworms – and now no one is happy! But hey, SpaceX, amirite?

Q: When is Zuck not watching you?

A: It's not a joke, he's always watching. Turns out, after stealing your data on all his social media sites, he put code in his “smart” glasses to do facial recognition of everyone you look at – so he can steal all our identities next! We're all winners!

Trump's UFC birthday bash is a gift to his billionaire friends: The White House was privatized for the financial benefit of Trump's wealthy allies

- ★ It was a gathering of people, like Meta's Mark Zuckerberg, with overlapping financial interests in the Trump administration's goodwill, gathered on public land, at public expense, to watch a private company's product, sponsored by the president's own businesses
- ★ To watch what Secretary of State Marco Rubio, with a straight face, called "a gift to the American people," viewers had to pay $8.99 plus tax to Paramount+, the streaming service owned by Paramount Skydance, which is run by David Ellison, the son of Oracle billionaire and Trump megadonor Larry Ellison.
- ★ There is a 600-ton octagon still sitting on the South Lawn featuring Bud Light ads — yes, the same Bud Light that Fox News spent the better part of 2023 urging its viewers to pour down the drain for the sin of a transgender partnership.
- ★ And let's not forget UFC CEO and Meta director Dana White. As much as we'd like to forget...

FEMALE JUDGES TO THE RESCUE

DEI FIGHTS BACK!

Furious Judge Cancels Entire Trial After Finding Out Lawyers on Both Sides Used AI:

- ★ Both legal teams relied on AI tools to generate their legal documents, briefs, or arguments.
- ★ Northern District of Mississippi judge Sharion Aycock was deeply angered by the lawyers' lack of professional diligence and human oversight.
- ★ "This court is yet again 'burdened with addressing AI hallucinations court filings.'"

Federal Judge Rips Interior Department For Rewriting History In National Parks

- ★ U.S. District Judge Angel Kelley halted Interior Secretary Doug Burgum's "Restoring Truth and Sanity to American History" order.
- ★ The judge heavily criticized the removal of the exhibits, calling the administration's actions a "dangerous precedent of censorship and sanitization."
- ★ The ruling emphasized that the national park system is "America's largest classroom" and must present history in its entirety rather than in "favored fragments."

DAILY
GRIND

- ★ Goldman Sachs CEO David “DJ D-Sol” Solomon is facing new scrutiny over his reported effort to retain Kathy Ruemmler, the bank’s top lawyer, months after she said she would resign over revelations about her ties to convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein.
- ★ Here are the highlights from a letter sent by U.S. Senator Elizabeth Warren and Representative Raja Krishnamoorthi:
 - Ruemmler educated (Epstein) on how the law differentiates between underage victims of sex crimes and adult prostitutes...
 - Did you “press” Ruemmler to stay at the firm? If so, why?
 - Ruemmler affectionately referred to Epstein as “Uncle Jeffrey.”
 - It was revealed in March that Ruemmler received an 11 percent raise, bringing her total compensation for 2025 to an astounding $25 million.

DIRECTOR OF THE WEEK

Martina Cheung, CEO and director BUT NOT THE CHAIR at S&P Global

The S&P Dow Jones Indices was THE ONLY ADULT brave enough not to obey Emperor Elon: “S&P DJI determined that exceptions to these requirements should not be granted solely based on market capitalization. The decision not to adopt the proposed exceptions preserves core index principles by maintaining consistent application of these key requirements.” Greedy cowards include: Nasdaq, FTSE Russell. and Morningstar Indexes.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

Congressman Jim McGovern of Massachusetts:

“Trump & ELON MUSK got rid of the USAID program that helped contain screwworms to Central America. Now, thanks to them, our beef is being infected with parasites. We’re all paying the price for this insane, far-right radical extremism.”
