IMPORTANT — NOT LEGAL ADVICE

This report compiles publicly-available statutes, regulations, and county zoning rules into a research reference. It is not legal advice and is provided without warranty as to accuracy, completeness, or current applicability.

Cottage food law changes frequently. Counties may amend zoning, health departments may issue new permits, and state legislatures may update statutes after the publication date shown above.

Always verify rules directly with your state department of health/agriculture and your county health and planning offices before relying on them for any business or regulatory decision. Consult a licensed attorney for advice specific to your situation.

Statute excerpt

R.I. Gen. Laws §21-27-6.2

What does the Rhode Island cottage food statute say?

- §21-27-6.2. Cottage food manufacture. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this chapter, the department of health shall register cottage food manufacture and the sale of the products of cottage food manufacture direct to consumers whether by pickup or delivery within the state, provided that the requirements of this section are met.
- (3) Cottage food manufacture shall be limited to the production of baked goods that do not require refrigeration or time/temperature control for safety, including but not limited to: (i) Double crust pies; (ii) Yeast breads; (iii) Biscuits, brownies, cookies, muffins; and (iv) Cakes that do not require refrigeration or temperature-controlled environment; and (v) Other goods as defined by the department.
- (4) Each cottage food manufacturer shall be registered with the department of health and shall require a notarized affidavit of compliance, in any form that the department may require, from the applicant that the requirements of this section have been met and the operation of the kitchen shall be in conformity with the requirements of this section.
- Prior to the initial registration, each cottage food manufacturer is required to successfully complete a Food Safety Manager Course, any American Standards Institute approved food handler course, or any other course approved by the department. (5) No such operation shall engage in consignment or wholesale sales.
- The following additional locational sales by any such cottage food operation shall be prohibited: (i) Grocery stores; (ii) Restaurants; (iii) Long-term-care facilities; (iv) Group homes; (v) Daycare facilities; and (vi) Schools. Advertising and sales by internet, mail, and phone are permissible, provided the cottage food licensee or their designee shall deliver, in person, to the customer within the state.
- (6) Total annual gross sales for a cottage food operation shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) per calendar year.

Executive summary

This report covers the Rhode Island cottage food framework — the state statute, the regulatory body administering it, what producers can and cannot sell, and county-level rules layered on top of state law for the 5 Rhode Island counties included in this dataset.

ANNUAL SALES CAP 50000	REGISTRATION REQUIRED Yes
FOOD HANDLER CERTIFICATION Yes	KITCHEN INSPECTION Yes
DIRECT SALES ONLY Yes	INDIRECT SALES (RETAIL/ONLINE/WHOLESALE) No — No wholesale or consignment sales permitted. Sales to grocery stores, restaurants, long-term care facilities, group homes, daycare facilities, and schools are prohibited. Internet/mail/phone sales are permissible but the operator or designee must personally deliver within the state. Farmers market and temporary event sales require an additional retail food peddler license.

RESEARCH NOTES

Verbatim excerpt is from the RI Legislature’s official webserver (webserver.rilegislature.gov). Note the input batch cited §21-27-6.1 but the active cottage food manufacture statute is §21-27-6.2, enacted P.L. 2022, ch. 231, art. 9, §2 (effective June 27, 2022) and amended P.L. 2024, ch. 403, art. 2, §6 (effective June 26, 2024). Section 21-27-6.1 is a related but different provision. The $65 registration fee (payable to General Treasurer, State of RI) is required with proof of completed food handler training, a notarized affidavit, and kitchen sketch. The DOH may inspect at any time for compliance. This is among the most restrictive cottage food laws in the nation.

KEY TAKEAWAYS FOR BAKERS IN RHODE ISLAND

- Rhode Island (Poor tier) — annual sales cap: 50000.
- Home kitchen rules vary by county — use the county sections below for permits, inspections, and zoning overlays.
- Check whether your county requires a separate dedicated kitchen, home occupation permit, or local business license.
- Labeling and registration requirements are set by state law; confirm exact wording with Rhode Island Department of Health.
- Registration required: Yes.
- Direct vs indirect sales: No (No wholesale or consignment sales permitted. Sales to grocery stores, restaurants, long-term care facilities, group homes, daycare facilities, and schools are prohibited. Internet/mail/phone sales are permissible but the operator or designee must personally deliver within the state. Farmers market and temporary event sales require an additional retail food peddler license.).

PORCH / ON-SITE SALES

These are frequently more restricted by local zoning than by cottage food law. Check the county-level "On-site / porch pickup" answers and confirm with county planning.

RECOMMENDED FIRST STEPS

1. Confirm your county rules using the county sections below or the standalone county PDF.
2. Check if you need any local business license or home occupation permit (most don't).
3. Prepare labels with the required home-kitchen disclosure (wording varies by state/county).
4. Register with the state if your projected sales or product type requires it (check the registration field).
5. Start with direct sales at farmers markets or on-site — often the easiest path in Rhode Island.

Rhode Island has no county government. Municipal zoning applies. R.I. Gen. Laws §21-27-6.2 governs at state level.

RESEARCH NOTES

Newport County, RI is a geographic county without county government. Rhode Island's cottage food law (§21-27-6.2, enacted 2022, amended 2024) is among the most restrictive in the nation: baked goods only, inspection, registration, direct sales only, no out-of-state sales. Newport County residents are subject to state law and their specific municipality's ordinances. No county-level rules to apply. Confidence is medium: state law confirmed from RI Legislature official source; municipal-level rules not verified.

No county-level code found; Providence County is largely governed by constituent municipalities. State law at R.I. Gen. Laws §21-27-6.2.

RESEARCH NOTES

Rhode Island enacted H. 7123 in June 2022 creating its first non-farmer cottage food program (R.I. Gen. Laws §21-27-6.2). Registration with RIDOH required ($65 fee); food handler training or food safety certification required; notarized affidavit required; $50,000 annual sales cap; direct sales only within RI. RIDOH has ongoing inspection authority. State law does NOT preempt local ordinances, so Providence County municipalities may impose additional home occupation requirements. Providence County has no county government per se — it is administered through its 39 municipalities. Confidence medium because no specific municipality-level zoning code was retrieved for unincorporated areas (Rhode Island has no true unincorporated county areas).

Relevant county code

R.I. Gen. Laws §21-27-6.2. Note: Washington County RI (also called South County) has no county government; all governance is municipal.

RESEARCH NOTES

State baseline (RI) confirmed: R.I. Gen. Laws §21-27-6.2, $65 registration, $50,000 cap, baked goods only, kitchen inspection required. Washington County RI (often called South County) has no actual county government — all zoning and permits are handled at the municipal level (South Kingstown, North Kingstown, Narragansett, Westerly, etc.). County seat field is blank in input data. Confidence medium — applying state baseline; no county-level governance to research.

Crosodo Index methodology: The Crosodo Index is our internal 1–N ranking of U.S. counties by how friendly the combined state + county rules are for home-based cottage food bakers. Score components (higher = better): home kitchen allowed (30/15/5), no dedicated kitchen required (25), pets allowed (15), no home occupation permit (15), on-site pickup allowed (10), no inspection (10), no local business license (5), high data confidence (5), plus state tier bonus (Freedom +20, Great +15, Good +10, Okay +5). Data drawn from county zoning codes, health department rules, and state cottage food statutes (primarily the county_cottage_food_zoning research set and state statutes CSV, last verified ~2026). Ranks are global across ~3,000 counties. Counties with sparse or missing data receive lower/default scores. This is a research and prioritization tool only — always verify current rules directly with your state department of agriculture/health and your county planning & health offices. The original U.S. Census population rank is retained in source data for reference but is no longer used for primary display or sorting in Crosodo materials.
