

CV Anja Ellenberger

Works as an independent researcher and curator for museums and artist-run spaces as well as international film festivals and the Kinemathek Hamburg focussing on avantgarde and experimental film and relationships between fine arts and film

Studied Art History, Ethnology and Media and Communication Studies with a focus on film history at University of Göttingen

Lives and works in Hamburg (Germany) and Linz (Austria)

since 2021 head of exhibitions at University of Arts and Design Linz (Austria)

since 2017 independent curator at artist-run space Westwerk Hamburg

2015 – 2018 several curatorial research residencies in Bangalore and Hyderabad (India) including exhibitions, workshops and lectures on curating; organizing an exchange programme for Indian artists

2010 – 2018 independent curator at International Short Film Festival Hamburg

2014 – 2017 research associate at Institute for Media and Communication Studies, University of Hamburg

2011 – 2013 visiting lecturer and project coordinator at University of Hamburg with a focus on the Hamburg television and film scenes of the 1960s

2011 visiting professor at Jilin Animation Institute Changchun (PR of China)

2008 – 2012 research associate & curator at German Institute for Animated Film Dresden