There are 7 cakes displayed at the bakery. Three of these cakes are chocolate.

1. What fraction of the cakes at the bakery are chocolate?

2. If 2 of the cakes are carrot cake, what fraction of the cakes at the bakery are NOT carrot?

3. If 4 of the cakes are two-layered cakes, what fraction of the cakes at the bakery are two-layered cakes?

REGENT STUDIES
Focused education on life's walk!
www.regentstudies.com

4. If $\frac{3}{7}$ of the cakes were already sold, how many cakes were already sold?

5. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, $\frac{6}{7}$ of the cakes were sold. How many of the cakes were left?

Answers

1. $\frac{3}{7}$ of the cakes at the bakery are chocolate.

2. $\frac{5}{7}$ of the cakes at the bakery are not carrot.

3. $\frac{4}{7}$ of the cakes at the bakery are two-layered.

4. 3 cakes were already sold.

5. There was 1 cake left.