

Theo's Party

I can join two sentences using and.

1. Which sentences go together? Draw lines to match them up.

Lots of people went to the party.

Theo blew them out.

There was a cake with six candles.

It was yummy.

We played pass the parcel.

He will be seven.

It is Farhan's birthday next week.

They all had fun.

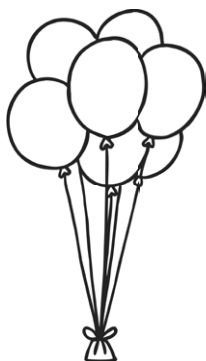

We ate party food.

Jess won.

Challenge:

2. Now join the two sentences using and to make a longer sentence.

- a) Lots of people went to the party and _____.
- b) There was a cake with six candles and _____.
- c) We played pass the parcel _____.
- d) It is Farhan's birthday next week _____.
- e) We had party food _____.

Theo's Party

I can join two sentences using and.

I can use and to write a longer sentence of my own.

1. Which sentences go together? Draw lines to match them up.

Lots of people went to the party.

Theo blew them out.

There was a cake with six candles.

Jess won.

We played pass the parcel.

They all had fun.

2. Now join the two sentences using and to make a longer sentence.

a) Lots of people went to the party and _____.

b) There was a cake with six candles and _____.

c) We played pass the parcel _____.

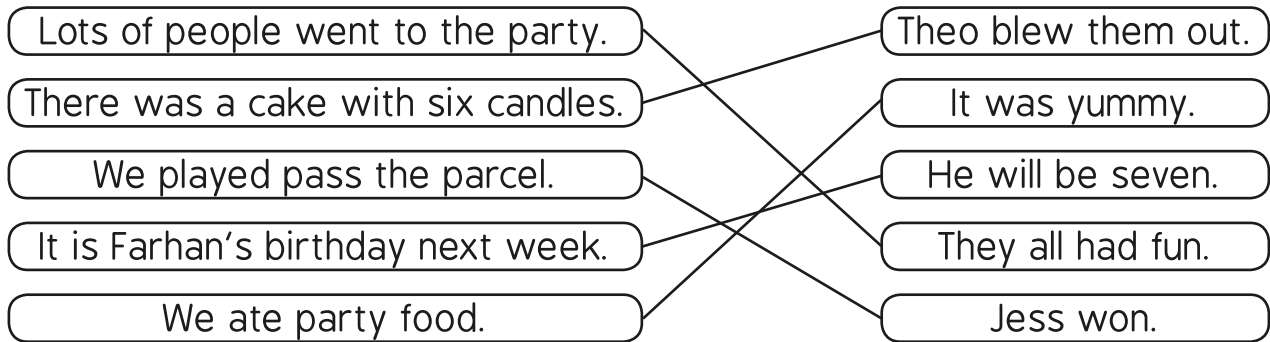

Challenge:

3. Now write 3 more sentences of your own about the party by joining two sentences using and.

1. Which sentences go together? Draw lines to match them up.

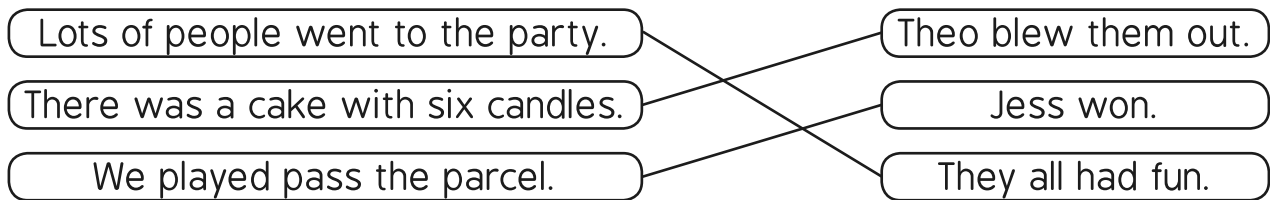

Challenge:

2. Now join the two sentences using and to make a longer sentence.

- a) Lots of people went to the party and they all had fun.
- b) There was a cake with six candles and Theo blew them out.
- c) We played pass the parcel and Jess won.
- d) It is Farhan's birthday next week and he will be seven.
- e) We ate party food and it was yummy.

1. Which sentences go together? Draw lines to match them up.

2. Now join the two sentences using and to make a longer sentence.

- a) Lots of people went to the party and they all had fun.
- b) There was a cake with six candles and Theo blew them out.
- c) We played pass the parcel and Jess won.

Challenge:

3. Now write 3 more sentences of your own about the party by joining two sentences using and.

Ensure child's own sentences have two clauses and ideas are linked sensibly using and.