

pronoun

determiner

noun

I shot the basketball but

verb

co-ordinating conjunction

I missed the target by

adjective

preposition

a huge distance.

noun

verb

determiner

Farmer Fred secured the broken fence with wire

co-ordinating conjunction

preposition

so the sly fox couldn't steal the chickens.

adjective

noun

verb

determiner

Mrs Mosley loved her old

co-ordinating conjunction

adjective

class yet she still

pronoun

adverb

preferred her new pupils.

determiner

adjective

noun

verb

The bitter wind blew

co-ordinating conjunction

violently for it was

adverb

pronoun

a fierce storm.

determiner

adjective

noun

verb

The pleasant lady smiled

adverb

sweetly and the friendly

co-ordinating conjunction

bus driver smiled back.

noun

verb

determiner

preposition

Jack hates the smell of

pronoun

cheese nor does he like

co-ordinating conjunction

to smell cabbage.

verb

pronoun

verb

Would you like to go

swimming or would you

co-ordinating conjunction

prefer to go bowling?