

Dear Me

Imagine that you are in the future.

You find a postbox that can send letters to any time or place.

Write a postcard that you can send to your past self.

A large rectangular area for writing a postcard, with a stamp box and four horizontal lines.

You might want to write about:

- where you are living;
- an interesting invention that you own;
- the exciting job that you have;
- what the world is like now.
