Two commas can mark out extra information inserted into a sentence.

We use commas when information is of (roughly) equal priority to other information in the sentence.

We use paired commas for non-essential information.

3. Tick the sentence which correctly uses commas for parenthesis:

1 mark

Her mum, who was always well-dressed, drove her daughter to school.

Her mum, who was always well-dressed drove her daughter to school.

Her mum who was always well-dressed , drove her daughter to school.
