

The Present
and Past
Progressive Tense
Warm Up

We are going to play Progressive Tense Hangman! Can you guess the missing letters in the progressive tense sentence?

For a bonus point, is the sentence written in the past progressive tense or the present progressive tense? How did you know?

— — — — a —

When an incorrect letter is chosen, press the 'Oh no!' button to knock down a bowling pin.

Oh no!

This is present progressive tense because it uses 'is' + a verb with an -ing suffix.

Uh-Oh!

The pound coin i s / c h a n g i n g
shape this year. ✨

Show
Answer

a b c d e f g h i
j k l m n o p q r
s t u v w x y z

This is past progressive tense because it uses 'was' + a verb with an -ing suffix.

Uh-Oh!

My teacher was / drinking a cup of tea.

Show
Answer

a b c d e f g h i
j k l m n o p q r
s t u v w x y z

This is present progressive tense because it uses 'are' + a verb with an -ing suffix.

Uh-Oh!

The children are / practising their dance in the hall.

Show
Answer

a	b	c	d	e	f	g	h	i
j	k	l	m	n	o	p	q	r
s	t	u	v	w	x	y	z

Can you write a sentence to describe this picture using the past progressive tense?

show answer

Any sentence that uses 'was' or 'were' and then a verb with an -ing suffix. For example: Jake was telling me about his holiday. The boys were looking at the photographs.

Is this written in the simple past tense or the past progressive tense?

She was playing football.

show answer

Past progressive tense because it uses 'was' and then a verb with an -ing suffix.

Is this written in the simple past tense or the past progressive tense?

He baked a delicious cake.

show answer

Simple past tense – the verb 'bake' has a simple -ed suffix.

Can you write a sentence to describe this picture using the present progressive tense?

show answer

Any sentence that uses 'is' or 'are' and then a verb with the -ing suffix. For example: My friends are jumping. Only one person is standing still. The dancers are leaping.

Is this written in the simple present tense or the past progressive tense?

The athletes run on the track.

show answer

Simple present tense – it uses the verb 'run' in its simplest form.

Is this written in the simple past tense or the past progressive tense?

Ali is swimming in the pool.

show answer

Present progressive tense because it uses 'is' and then a verb with an -ing suffix.

Is this written in the simple past tense, the past progressive tense, the simple present tense or the present progressive tense?

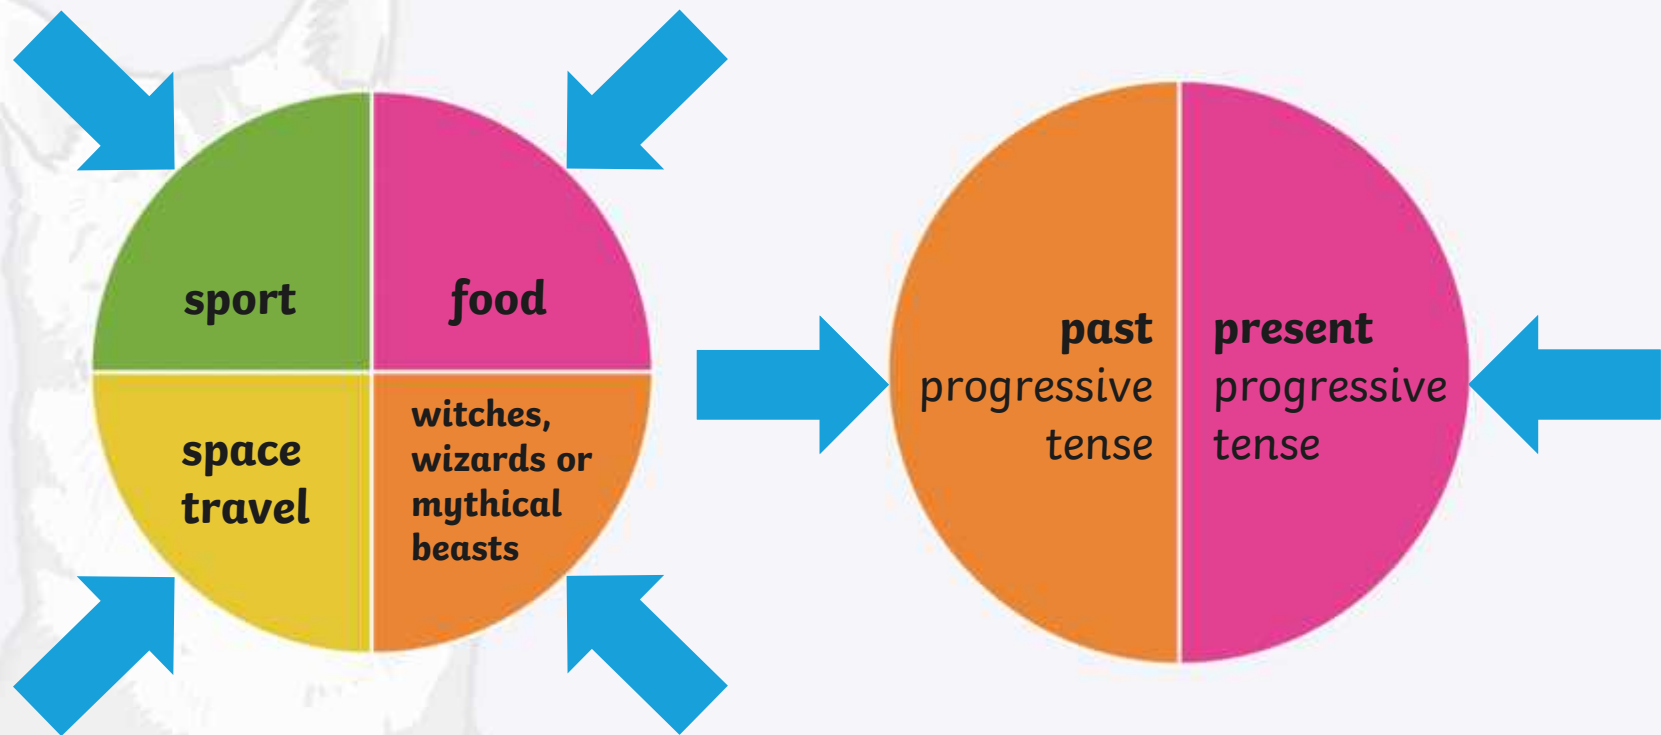

We were making friendship bracelets all afternoon.

show answer

This is past progressive tense – because it uses ‘were’ and a verb with an -ing suffix.

How did you know?

Spin the spinners! Write a sentence about the topic selected by the first spinner in the tense selected by the second spinner.

show
answers

Your sentence is correct if you used 'am', 'is' or 'are' and a verb with an -ing suffix for the present progressive tense; or you have used 'was' or 'were' + a verb with an -ing suffix for past progressive tense.

This sentence has been mixed up. Can you put it in the right order? Do you think it is present or past progressive tense?

ish This first or exactly is again got been to of state

show answer

This sentence is written in the present progressive tense.

This sentence has been mixed up. Can you put it in the right order? Do you think it is present or past progressive tense?

hMyMjachipsveatifighfisd
andtehipesifongfar

show answer

This sentence is written in the past progressive tense.

Split into two teams. Take it in turns to click on two cards. If you find the same sentence written in simple past tense and simple present tense then you score a point for your team. Whichever team has found the most pairs at the end of the game wins.

show answer

Simple present tense – Adnan walks up the stairs quickly.
Simple past tense – Felix won the medal for neat handwriting.
Past progressive tense – Alice was dawdling on her way to school.
Present progressive tense – Magda is losing at Snakes and Ladders.

Can you sort the sentences into past progressive and present progressive tense and post them in the correct post box?

As an extra challenge, try to think of a sentence of your own that you could put into each post box.

The bird was building a nest.

The baby is crying.

My dog is doing tricks.

The children are voting for their favourite book.

The girl scouts were camping in a field.

We were cooking grandma a special meal.

Past
Progressive Tense

Present
Progressive
Tense

