

Spelling Dictation Sentences

Week 1

We must accept other people's ideas.

Everybody except Dana went to the party.

Try not to let the news affect your emotions.

I like the effect of the varnish on my painting.

We all took turns to read aloud during reading sessions.

We are not allowed to wear jewellery to school.

It looks like we'll have good weather for the trip to the zoo.

I couldn't decide whether to go or to stay.

The author, whose books are very popular, visited our school.

Who's coming to my birthday party tomorrow?

Week 2

Every morning, Robbie eats his favourite cereal.

We watched a serial drama about the Victorians.

Always check that you have your lunch box in your bag.

We received a cheque for a large amount of money.

I peeked through the window looking for my friend.

Edith threw the ball as hard as she could.

Farooq's first draft needed lots of changes.

There was a cold draught blowing under the door.

Hetty always stares at me when I come into the room.

I climbed the stairs slowly.

Week 3

We are looking for information about France.

My dad often gives my mum a look of adoration.

I had an eerie sensation that I was being watched...

In preparation for the test, please remember to revise.

We are lucky to receive a free education.

The location of the camp will be revealed next week.

“I think that’s an exaggeration,” stated Mrs Greene.

Concentration is important during your spelling test.

Use your imagination while writing the story.

My brothers lack of organisation results in a very messy room.

Week 4

“Your latest creation is beautiful!” exclaimed my nan.

The dentist leaves the room during x-rays to limit exposure to radiation.

Please make a positive indication of your choice.

The ventilation in here is not good so it feels stuffy.

After the relegation of my team, the best players left.

With hard work and dedication, we completed the project.

The flying demonstration was amazing!

PE is the abbreviation of Physical Education.

The first translation of the Bible into English was in 1526.

The vibration of the phone was annoying.

Week 5

You must submerge your head to swim properly.

Include a subheading for each section of the report.

While on holiday, I went in a submarine to see the coral reef.

A subordinate clause cannot make sense on its own.

The subway is the American name for the underground.

Superman saved the day by stopping the explosion.

The sergeant had to supervise the loading of the trucks.

This new model will supersede all previous models.

I wish I had the superpower of invisibility.

The character acquires superhuman powers.

Week 6

Where is the girls' changing room please?

These are the boys' shoes.

The babies' toys were scattered all around the nursery.

"These are the parents' seats," said Mr Graham before the show.

Please collect the teachers' mugs from the playground.

The women's relay team won the gold medal.

Are those men's clothes over there?

This is a children's shoe shop.

Those people's kite is much better than ours.

The mice's wheel squeaked as they played during the night.

REGENT STUDIES

Focused education on life's walk!

www.regentstudies.com