Read and Respond

Cook up a Character

Welcome to the character kitchen, where all story book characters begin their lives. Can you add all of the ingredients to the bowl to make a brand new character to add to your story.

Their hair is...

My character's name is...

An interesting fact about them..

They live...

My character wears...

The last thing...

Their face is...

Create a Comic

Think of a story you have read or one that is from your own imagination. Create a comic strip all about it, with pictures and captions that will wow our readers.

Twinkl-Town's Most Wanted

Make a wanted poster all about a villain. Include what they look like and what they have done.

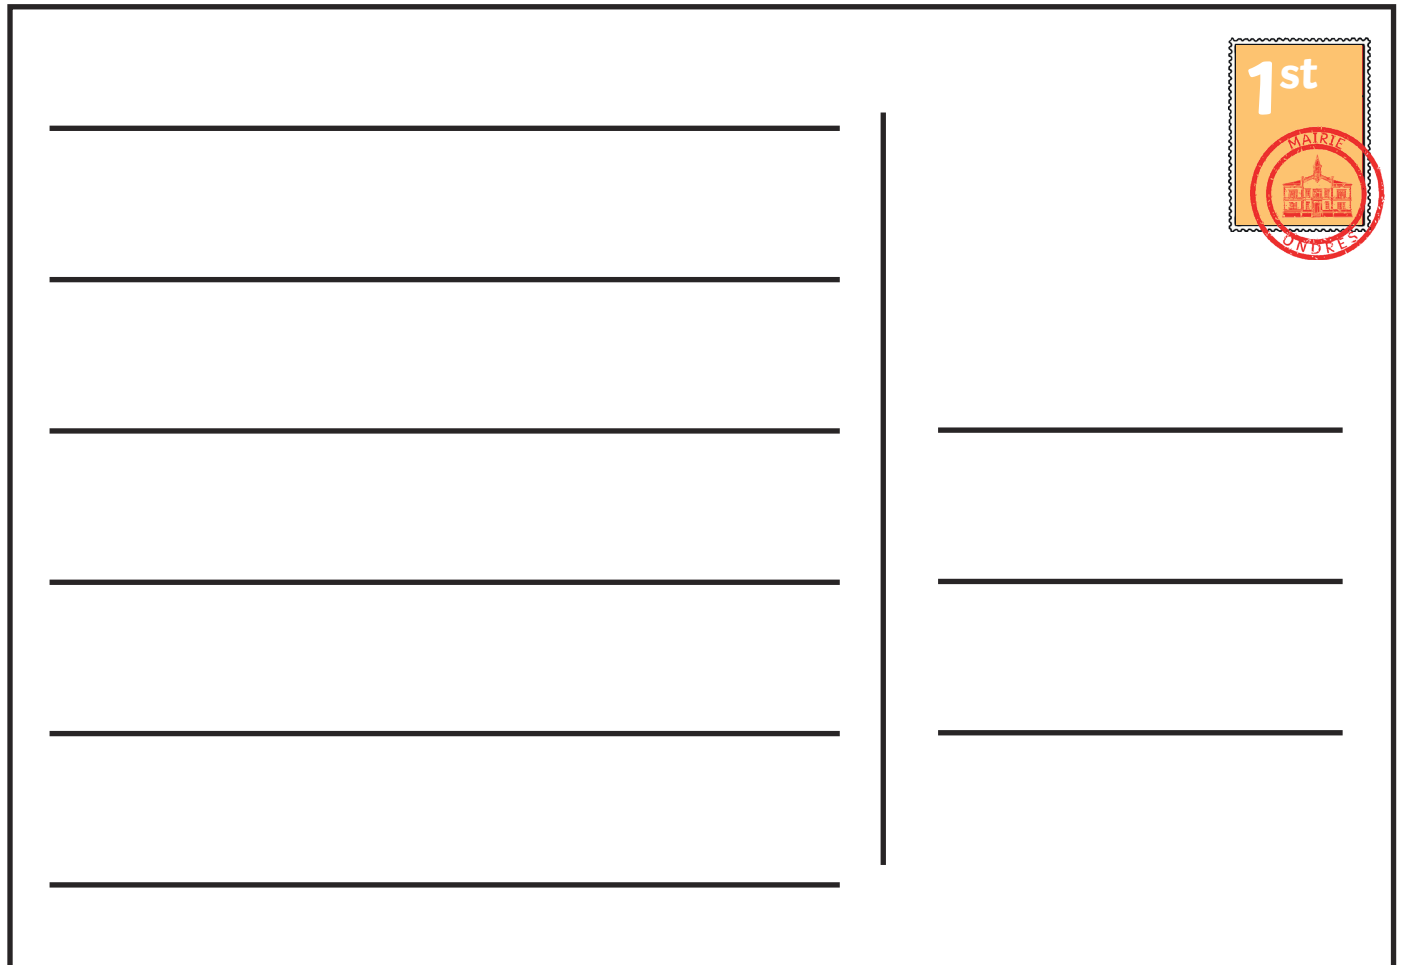

WANTED!

Write a Postcard

Pretend you are a character from your favourite book. Write a postcard home telling your friend all about where you are and what you are doing.

Design the front of your postcard here.

Dear Diary

Pretend to be a character from a story you have read and write a diary entry about the events that happened to them. Don't forget to use lots of adjectives to describe their emotions.

Dear Diary,

Knowing Me, Knowing You

Think of the main character from your favourite book. Write down what they are thinking, what they are saying and what they are feeling.

The worksheet contains five thought bubbles and one speech bubble for writing. The bubbles are pink, black, orange, and black. The speech bubble is black with a scalloped border. There are also small decorative stars and clouds scattered around the bubbles.

Judging a Book's Cover

Think of a story you've just read. Design a new front cover for the book, including a fabulous illustration, the title of the book and the author's name.

Code Breaker

Using the tricky alphabet code below, can you hide information about the story you have just read by making it top secret? Swap the letters on the top row for the letters on the bottom row to hide the words forever.

Find the real letter and swap it for the letter underneath
