7/27/2021 8:14 AM	Hello, and thank you for hearing my public comment today. My name is Amy Kemp, K E M P. And I'm a member of the audit committee. I'm calling in regard to an issue. I brought up at the most recent audit committee meeting that affects city council in Brooklyn, Gwen Whistler, and her abidance of the code of ethics for city council resolution number 10 dash 2 5 2 adopted in 2010. Based on the situation that I described during the most recent audit committee meeting, I believe that Ms. Whistler violated sections three and four of the ethics resolution, and it is my understanding and that resolution, that the situation should be addressed by an investigation of city council. This had to do with the publication of an article by a Monfred magazine that elicited Ms. Whistler's response in the form of a threat and disbelief of the parties. First amendment rights. I'm asking the city council to investigate this matter so that the public is clear on all aspects of the situation. Thank you very much.
