2 CORINTHIANS 6:18

Dear Expectant Mom,

I HAVE SO MUCH LOVE AND RESPECT FOR BIRTH MOTHERS. THE SACRIFICE, STRENGTH AND LOVE THAT A BIRTH MOM HAS IN CHOOSING ADOPTION FOR HER CHILD WOULD NOT BE LOST ON ME.

Thank you for taking a look at my profile to get a glimpse at who I am. I can't imagine how hard this process has been for you. I hope through it all you feel loved, comforted and at peace during this difficult-to-navigate time. I hope you know that I am praying for you, am thinking of you and hope that when the right connection comes along, you are filled with peace and comfort in your decision.

If chosen as your child's adoptive family, my hope is that I would feel like a part of your extended family. I know and value the importance that biological family plays in a child's life and I am open to any level of adoption that feels best for you. You are your child's first mother and you know what is best for them. If an open adoption is what you are seeking, we will create a beautiful life for your little one with both of us in it. If a semi-open adoption is what you are seeking, I will send you updates on all the wonderful things our little one is doing. And if a closed adoption is what you are seeking, I will completely respect that. Know that the door will always be open should you change your mind.

The fact that you are choosing adoption says so much about you. That you are selfless, brave, loving and that you care so much about your baby. I would love to hear from you and hear your heart and your hope for your baby.

Warmest Wishes,

Tiffany

HELLO!

my name is Tiffany

I am a Kindergarten Teacher, hoping to adopt a baby of my own!

Ever since I was young, all I ever wanted was to be a mom. I have cared for babies and young children for most of my life, in many different roles. I babysat when I was young, worked at a daycare in high school, taught Sunday school at church and was a nanny in college. I enjoyed each of these roles so much as I got to care for littles, which is so rewarding to me.

I have now been an early childhood educator for the past 12 years. I find so much joy in teaching and nurturing the youngest learners in school.

I believe that love is what makes a family and I can not wait for the day that I get to meet the little one who will make me a mom! Becoming a mom is my greatest hope and would truly be the biggest joy and blessing in my life. Words can not describe how much I long to become a parent.

I HAVE BEEN A TEACHER
FOR 12 YEARS AND HAVE SPENT THE LAST 8 YEARS
IN KINDERGARTEN.

Teaching Kindergarten was always a dream of mine!

I love nurturing and guiding young children and helping them see themselves as strong, successful and capable of anything. I LOVE getting to share in their joy with them as they learn to love learning new things. I love that I not only get to teach little ones how to read and write but also to be a good friend, to problem solve and to be a kind human.

The thing I love most about my job is showing up for kids every day. Often kids come to school for more than just their education - they need someone to love them, nurture them, care for them and champion for them and I am blessed to get to do those things for kids each day.

I love to dress up for spirit days!

Being a teacher will also provide me with the unique opportunity to both work, as well as spend a lot of time at home with my children. As a teacher, I work as many days as I have off during the year with all of the breaks and holidays that we have off. This allows me to provide for my family, but also spend just as much time at home with them.

Tiffany was created to mother. She is always there for those in need and has been a safe person not only for her family and friends, but for our kids as well. Tiffany is kind and compassionate. She sees the best in everyone while also acknowledging the reality around any given circumstance. This has made her incredibly compassionate and I believe uniquely equipped for adoption.

Why Adoption

I believe that love makes a family and that adoption is a beautiful representation of unconditional love.

It's important to me that when thinking of adoption, I remember that adoption starts with sacrifice, love and loss. Adoption comes from the brave and selfless actions of a first mother, choosing both life and love for her child. I hold these things in my heart, along with the birth mothers who are walking through them.

Adoption for me, also means receiving the biggest blessing there is in life. It's my lifelong dream and longing, finally coming true. I know I was meant to be a mom and will be forever grateful to the birth mom who chooses me to be the mother of her child.

I love

My neighborhood and community are a very family friendly and safe place to be and are a great place to raise children! I can't wait to welcome a little one into my home!

The love, support, stability and overall amazing parent that Tiffany will be, is going to be nothing less than amazing for her and her child. I know that the child Tiffany adopts will be shown unconditional love, a safe place, and will be raised with a support system around them.
