

Hopeful Adoptive Family in Pacific Northwest.

Hi, we are Dave and Janis. Dave likes cars, baking, soccer, and travel. Janis likes yoga, Enneagram, and writing. We both enjoy day trips, kayaking, cycling, and being with our two orange cats. We hope to share this and more with our child!

Janis is creative, warm, thoughtful, and loves understanding what makes people tick. She grew up babysitting and was an actor in community theater. She now experiences the thrill of being in front of others when she teaches counseling. She is extremely proud of her work teaching human development, and many of her college students credit her with preparing them for parenthood!

Dave is patient and able to relate to kids with both his humor and genuine interest. He grew up with the scouts, was a drum major, and played soccer. After completing his degree in engineering, he coached co-ed high school soccer. He is a favorite uncle to his nephews, full of humor, and can set consistent boundaries as needed. His care for people shows up in his cooking and baking. Dave loves cars, is always tinkering with something in the garage, and hopes our child will want fix old BMWs with him.

Together, we blend our styles, making up silly songs and games for our nieces and nephews, hosting backyard barbecues, and enjoying outings to the ocean. As parents we will listen, provide structure, and love unconditionally. Dave speaks fluent German, and we value connecting to many cultures. We both have a love of learning and hope to impart this to our child. We have community both in Washington state and in Germany, our child will always be enriched by having loving friends and family to connect with!
