

Eddie Adams is an experienced cellist that has performed on numerous stages. Eddie is pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Cello Pedagogy at George Mason University. Eddie has studied under well-known musicians that include Gerald Fowkes and Dorotea Racz. He also currently studies pedagogy with George Mason professor, June Huang.

Eddie found his love for cello, as well as choir and band, when he was in high school and performed at Disney World with his orchestra. His musical journey was featured in The Washington Post, CBS, and Reuters.

Eddie has experience soloing with the Washington Sinfonietta and with the George Mason Symphony. Eddie performed as the principal cellist with the George Mason Symphony for numerous years and worked as the Music Librarian. Eddie has also performed as a member of the Bach Cello Suites Festival that performed on the Carnegie Hall stage in New York. He has also performed at the Sandler Center located in Virginia Beach, VA.

Eddie currently teaches and performs out of the Northern Virginia area.