Product Description

From RS PRO, these adjustable water pump pliers are an essential toolbox addition for professionals and enthusiasts alike. The box joint design allows a firm and adjustable grip on various kinds of pipes and fasteners. With a chrome vanadium steel construction, this tool is resistant to corrosion for a long and dependable service life. The water pump pliers have a snub nose head with serrated gripping jaws, for complete confidence when applying torque to stubborn or seized parts. The pliers even feature an integrated crimper under the box joint for added versatility. With an ergonomic grip and versatile adjustability, these water pump pliers are a tool you can rely on.
