Welcome

As Scouts, we believe in empowering young people with skills for life. We encourage our young people to do more, learn more and be more.

Each week we give almost 40,000 young people in Scotland the opportunity to enjoy fun and adventure while developing the skills they need to succeed, now and in the future. We're talking about teamwork, leadership and resilience – skills that have helped Scouts become everything from teachers and social workers to astronauts and Olympians.

We believe in bringing people together. We celebrate diversity and stand against intolerance, always. We're a worldwide movement, creating stronger communities and inspiring positive futures.

Having just launched a new strategic plan, Skills For Life: Our plan to prepare better futures in Scotland, this is an incredibly exciting time for Scouting in Scotland. We welcome talent from all backgrounds and your contribution to help even more young people succeed in life.

Our values

- Integrity
- Respect
- Care
- Belief
- Cooperation

Skills for Life

Our plan to prepare better futures in Scotland 2018-2023

Our vision

By 2023 we will have prepared more young people with skills for life, supported by amazing leaders delivering an inspiring programme.

We will be growing, more inclusive, shaped by young people and making a bigger impact in our communities.

Our mission

Scouting actively engages and supports young people in their personal development, empowering them to make a positive contribution to society.

Our values

We act with care, respect, integrity, cooperation, exploring our own and others' beliefs.

Our goals

By delivering this plan we will achieve the following goals against our four objectives:

Growth

- 5,000 more young people
- 1,000 more Section Leaders (including Assistant Section Leaders)
- 200 new Sections
- 500 more Young Leaders

Inclusivity

- Scouting membership reflects society in Scotland, especially, but not exclusively, in areas of deprivation, remote and rural areas and in new communities

Youth Shaped

- Young people shaping their Scouting experience, with 50% of Groups and 75% of Districts and Regions earning Youth Approved Awards

Community Impact

- 50% of youth members taking part in community impact project
- 50% of young people achieving top awards.

Our three pillars of work

To support the Movement to achieve these objectives, we will focus on three pillars of work

Programme

A fun, enjoyable, high quality programme consistently delivered and supported by simple tools.

People

Scouting will be delivered to more young people from different backgrounds by more, well trained, better supported, motivated adult volunteers from different backgrounds.

Perception

Scouting is understood, more visible, trusted, respected and widely seen as playing a key role in society today.

Our Impact

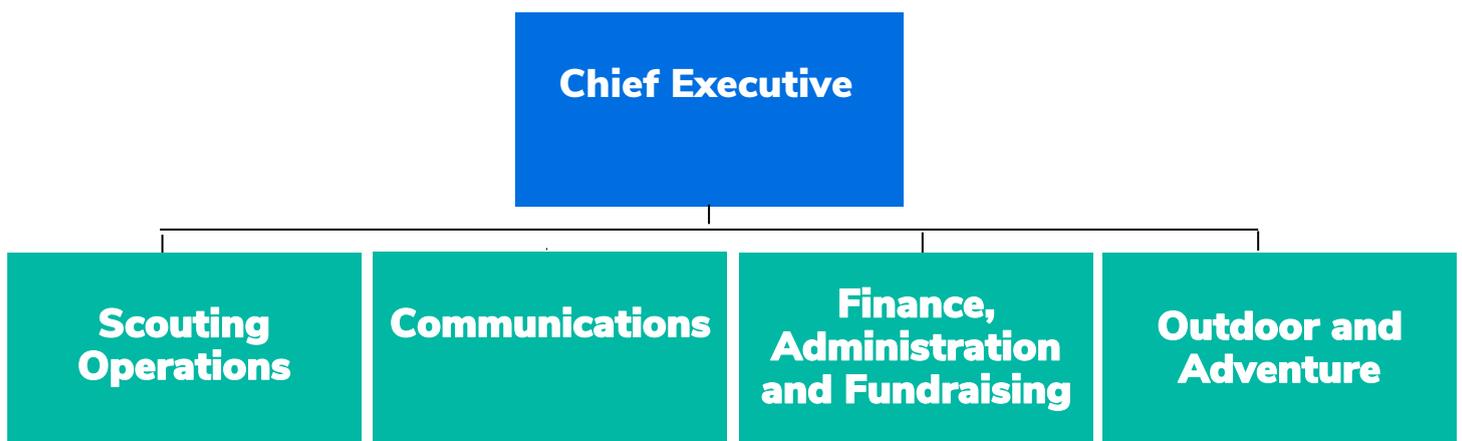

Society is changing. In often fragmented communities, the pressures and expectations on young people are increasing. The future is uncertain. Scouts has never been so important in helping young people prepare for the future, developing the skills they need to succeed in a changing world. Each week, throughout the UK, almost half a million young people enjoy fun, friendship and outdoor adventure. They develop a sense of optimism and strong values as well as the leadership and team working skills that are more valuable today than ever.

Our Movement achieves remarkable things. In Scotland, we have continued to grow for 13 consecutive years. Scouting achieves remarkable things. Our previous strategy inspired over 30 new groups and sections to start in areas of deprivation, and we now help almost 39,000 young people (including 7,000 girls) in Scotland get the best possible start in life. It inspired social action and enabled young people to make a positive contribution in their local communities with over 500 community impact projects. Our adult volunteer numbers are at record levels. We have empowered young people to shape their movement, with the introduction of a youth involvement strategy and a Youth Approved scheme, which recognises meaningful youth involvement.

Now we want to go further. Skills for Life is a strategy that supports and empowers our volunteers who are the people that make Scouts a reality. It's a strategy to bring communities together and contribute towards a better society. But most of all, it's a strategy for young people. They deserve the best skills, the best support, and the best possible futures.

Our Structure

Scouts Scotland is based at Fordell Firs, Hillend, Dunfermline, and is operationally divided into four teams

Scout Adventures Scotland

Much of our outdoor learning and adventure programme is delivered under our Scout Adventures brand. As part of a UK network, Scouts Scotland currently operate three Scout Adventure Centres that deliver outdoor learning, adventurous experiences and residential programmes to both our own members and a range of partners, including schools and other youth charities. Our Centres also offer training, advice and support to our amazing adult leaders and we are increasingly delivering training to teachers.

They deliver a wide range of opportunities – everything from fully programmed and catered residential weeks to traditional camping and bush craft experiences.

As national Scout Centres, we also offer support our leaders with programme planning, and can deliver a progressive range of experiences across our three sites – from a first night away in a bunk bedded dorm to a gold Duke of Edinburgh's Award expedition on Loch Lomond. In fact, we are one of Scotland's largest providers of Duke of Edinburgh's expeditions.

Our three centres are:

Scout Adventures Fordell Firs (Dunfermline, Fife) operating since 1946 is a fully AALA licenced Centre, providing indoor accommodation for 67, a tented village for 64 and camping for more than 400 in a mix of woodland and grass areas over 48 acres. It offers a wide range of on-site adventurous activities. In addition to providing a wide range of programmes and events for our members, the Centre provides day visit and residential programmes for schools and has a strong reputation for working with groups and charities catering for young people with additional needs.

Scout Adventures Lochgoilhead (Argyll) was established in 1965. Located at the head of the Loch Goil sea loch and surrounded by hills, it is a 150-bed fully-catered and programmed residential outdoor Centre. It offers a huge range of adventurous activities on land and water, accessed directly from the Centre's grounds. Fully AALA licenced the Centre delivers a range of NGB Awards and is also an approved provider for DoE expeditions. In addition to providing high adventure, meeting requirements for specialist activities within the Scouting programme and being a centre of excellence and advice in relation to adventurous activities, a particular strength is delivering Curriculum for Excellence through outdoor learning for schools.

Scout Adventures Meggernie (Glen Lyon, Perthshire) has been operated by Scouts Scotland since 1994. Located within Glen Lyon, indoor accommodation is provided for 30 within a converted farm steading, surrounded by camping grounds for 200. It delivers excellence in environmental learning and provides a range of facilities for bush-craft skills and nature study. It is an ideal base for residential, camping, expeditions, and unique outdoor experiences within the setting of a working Highland estate.
