

TRUSTEE ROLE DESCRIPTION

BACKGROUND The Merchants House is one of Glasgow's oldest charitable organisations with a history dating back to 1605 and before. Today we make a positive impact on the lives and experiences of the people of Glasgow and the West of Scotland by providing grant and other support to and partnering with third sector bodies and by supporting individuals in need.

The House manages substantial endowment funds, many of which have specific terms on the distribution of grants. Rental income is generated from the office suites of the Merchants House building owned and occupied by the House.

Total assets of the House are in the region of £10m. During the last five years, the House has committed almost £1.3m of grants and other charitable financial assistance to over 200 organisations, principally in the third sector, which make an impact predominantly in Glasgow and the West of Scotland

The Head of the House is the Lord Dean of Guild, elected annually by its Members. The Lord Dean acts as Chairman of the House and delegates Convenorship of the different committees. The Office of the Dean of Guild ranks next to that of the Lord Provost of the City.

You can see an overview of the Charity on the OSCR website: OSCR | Charity Details

The present membership of the House is over 800. Up to thirty-six Directors, elected by the members, carry on the active work of the House, together with the Dean, the Vice-Dean, the Immediate Past Dean and the previous two Ex-Deans.

Further information regarding our Charitable activities can be found at our website www.merchantshouse.org.uk

WHAT IS REQUIRED OF TRUSTEES?

Trustees are expected to attend Quarterly Board meetings and will be allocated to at least one of the committees that meet at least three times per year. Meetings are typically held in the morning and will last around 1 hour. For effective conduct of the business of the Charity, there are seven committees of Directors and one sub-committee:

- Audit Committee
- Employment and Remuneration Committee
- Finance Committee
- Grants Committee

- Membership Development Committee
- Property and Capital Projects Committee
- Nominations committee
- Philanthropy and Legacy Committee
- Investment Sub-Committee

Trustees are required to share expertise and provide governance on five key areas:

- Charity governance
- Membership relations
- Grantmaking
- Financial reporting
- Donor relations

The Trustees are supported by the staff team, who support the Charity's strategic objectives are taken forward.

Trustees display the integrity, vision and enthusiasm needed to advance the House's objectives. A helpful guide for charity Trustees is published by OSCR, the Scottish Charity Regulator: <https://www.oscr.org.uk/guidance-and-forms/guidance-and-good-practice-for-charity-trustees> Please ensure you read this before submitting your application.

On becoming a Trustee, you will be given a full induction covering the policies of the House.

This is a voluntary role. The term of office is three years, with an option to seek election for two further three-year terms.
