About RASASH

Rape and Sexual Abuse Service Highland (RASASH) is a charitable organisation, a SCIO set up in 2014, based in Inverness and a member of the Rape Crisis Scotland network.

RASASH provides support, information, and advocacy for anyone aged 13+ or over, living in the Highlands and affected by sexual violence. We also develop and deliver training and workshops to schools, youth groups, and professionals on a range of topics related to sexual violence and gender equality. This, alongside our youth-led campaigning, is part of our work aiming to change societal attitudes which contribute to sexual violence and the shaming of survivors.

RASASH is an intersectional-feminist organisation. This means that we recognise the compounding inequalities and discrimination that survivors, staff, and volunteers may experience, and seek to reflect this in our service provision and broader work. We are also survivor-led, which means that our operations are informed by survivors, and we are accountable first and foremost to them.

We are also committed to providing a supportive and empowering environment for our staff, creating an environment where we can inspire each other and allow each other to thrive, and working together collaboratively to achieve our collective goals. We also believe in continuous learning and reflection, welcoming feedback on how we can improve.

RASASH was set up to:

- Provide accessible, appropriate, and high quality emotional and practical support, information and advocacy for survivors, their non-abusing partners, family, and friends.
- Work towards the prevention and elimination of sexual violence, supporting societal change by raising awareness, challenging myths, and campaigning.
- Work with others to improve the way society, organisations and agencies respond to survivors of sexual violence.

Our core values underpin everything that we do. We believe that:

- Anyone affected by sexual violence, irrespective of their gender, should have access to free, confidential, non-judgemental, and specialist support;
- Survivors are experts in their own experience and our role is to support them to exercise control and direction of their own lives;
- Sexual violence is preventable. Everyone has a role to play in creating a society that stands in solidarity with survivors and stands against sexual violence.

RASASH is governed by a Board of eight active and committed Trustees. The team consists of 24 staff. We are committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace. We are pro-choice and trans-inclusive.

The Role

Job title:	Support Line Liaison 22 hours / 17 hours	Reports to:	Support Line Team Lead

- Provide information, emotional support, and crisis support for survivors age 13+ from a variety of backgrounds and situations, including those who have complex needs.
- Provide effective and timely referral from the point of contact to allocation. This includes conducting initial referral discussions with survivors, recording data, and supporting with allocation processes (e.g.

maintaining waiting lists, booking sessions, monitoring referrals, and participation in case discussion and allocation meetings).

- Record all information pertaining to RASASH's support line service accurately, appropriately and in line with Data Protection, including equalities monitoring data, service-user feedback, and survivor notes.
- Implement relevant monitoring and evaluation systems which capture both qualitative and quantitative information from all aspects of the service, including service-user engagement.
- Support the Team Lead to review, analyse, and report on service data, including maintaining accurate and appropriate retention of survivor records in line with RASASH's data protection policies.

TEAMWORK & DEVELOPMENT

- Work alongside and collaborate with colleagues to support a positive, diverse, and inclusive work environment that embodies RASASH's feminist values and mission.
- Support the implementation of RCS National Service Standards and RASASH Service Standards, participating and contributing to service development discussions to ensure we effectively meet the needs of survivors and deliver an inclusive, accessible, and equitable service.
- Participate in supervision, case discussion, and reflective practice as well as undertake regular training to ensure knowledge, learning, and practice are up to date.
- Support with delivering induction and refresher training for staff, including support line volunteers.
- Contribute to the development and adhere to RASASH's policies, processes, and procedures, ensuring that all activities comply with current legislation (e.g. health and safety, safeguarding etc.)

OTHER

- Support with ad hoc projects and initiatives that seek to develop and grow the service.
- Contribute to RASASH's social media, newsletter, and website communications as requested.
- Any other duties that are relevant to the post and agreed with the Support Line Team Lead.
