Inspiring Communities Strategy 2022 – 2025

We deliver community regeneration, employability, training, digital, volunteering, intergenerational and early years activities, along with lots of services designed to tackle social isolation and loneliness.

We do things WITH, not TO.... and we work in the inspiring communities of Raploch, Fallin, Plean and Cowie

- CHANGE – community led, facilitated by us
- We aim to help the people in the inspiring priority areas of Raploch, Fallin, Plean and Cowie realise their potential through their activity, work and incomes
- We want a prosperous area and for that prosperity to be sustainable – with economic well being enhancing social well being and quality of life

Community Regeneration

Our Objectives

Our objectives, are based on:

- aspiration: we want everyone in the priority areas we work in - current and future generations – to grow up with the confidence in their ability to achieve their ambitions;
- participation: we must help more local people be fit and ready for work, to be active in the labour market and active citizenship opportunities;
- accessibility: we demand that local people are able to choose from a larger and wider range of activities, work and volunteering opportunities;
- sustainability: we want more people getting work and progressing. We want to see social capital and community assets flourishing.

Key Messages

We will emphasise engagement with, and the involvement of, our local communities - residents, enterprises, visitors and all the others with a role to play in the area

Inspiring Communities will not do things to people; we will work with them so that they can do things for themselves

We and our partners should seek to embed activities within the community; we will always ask “why are we doing this?”
