Last update	June 2025

Who Cares? Scotland is Scotland’s only national independent membership organisation for Care Experienced people. Our strategic vision is to secure a lifetime of equality, respect and love for Care Experienced people in Scotland.

At the heart of Who Cares? Scotland’s work are the rights of Care Experienced people, and the power of their voices to bring about positive change.

We provide individual lifelong relationship-based independent advocacy and a broad range of imaginative participatory and engagement opportunities for Care Experienced people across Scotland. We work alongside Corporate Parents and communities to broaden understanding and create change. We work with policy makers, leaders and elected representatives locally and nationally to shape law, policy and practice, working together to build on the aspirations of The Promise and secure positive change.

Purpose of the post

Advocacy and Participation Workers work directly with children and young people with experience of care primarily in an individual advocacy role. This means we listen to what they say and support them to ensure their voices are truly heard regarding the decisions which are being made about their lives.

We also facilitate a very broad range of participatory and engagement opportunities and create the conditions for collective advocacy. This often brings young people together, allowing them to develop confidence, a sense of belonging and the opportunity to identify common issues. We ensure their voices are heard by care corporate parents and communities, creating positive change.

You will be skilled at developing positive relationships with children and young people. The post holder will place young people at the heart of everything they do, helping them live a positive life now and to reach their full potential in the future.

The post-holder will be joining Who Cares? Scotland and working within the North East team at an exciting time, when the voices of those who are in or have experienced care are growing in power, individually and collectively – bringing with them insight, challenge, hope and change.

Main duties and responsibilities

- To provide high quality independent advocacy, children's rights and participation opportunities for children and young people who are looked after, Care Experienced or subject to formal processes and structures.
- Seek views and represent children and young people through child protection processes.
- Assist children and young people in preparing for, and effectively participating in Looked After review meetings, children's hearings and other formal processes.
- Facilitate group opportunities for and with children and young people as directed by the requirements of Who Cares? Scotland.
- Provide other engagement/participation/consultation opportunities for children and young people as part of Who Cares? Scotland local and national work.
- Keep detailed records of work undertaken with young people and undertake monitoring of statistics.
- Prepare liaison reports which are based on the agreed outcomes for your areas of responsibility.
- Create opportunities to meet with care experienced children and young people and introduce the service, in line with agreements with the relevant residential school establishments.
- Raise awareness of Who Cares? Scotland and the range of the service and opportunities on offer amongst care experienced children and young people, professionals and carers.
- Work in partnership with professionals, carers and organisations to achieve the best outcomes for children and young people through supporting the Care Experienced voice to be heard.
- Adhere to Who Cares? Scotland policies, procedures and values at all times.
- Carry out any other duties commensurate with the post as identified by your line manager.

Communication

The post holder will have key contacts with:

- Children and young people across the different Local Authority areas, in all care placement settings, including out of authority placements.
- Partners and professionals across the Local Authority areas and other public sector Corporate Parents, the Third Sector.
- The broader Who Cares? Scotland team, in the North East team and across Scotland.

Teamwork alongside strong individual initiative will be crucial for the effective operation and imaginative development of the work.

Working environment
