What Our Families Say...

“

She's so positive and encouraging to me. She tells me to take a break and is always reminding me to do what's best for my mental health. Just having a cuppa with her makes me feel refreshed.

“

I think the biggest difference with Home-Start's support compared to other services is the volunteer wanted to be here. She didn't have to be, but she always showed up and dedicated her time to supporting me.

“

To all Home-Start volunteers, the moments you share with your families will be memories for life. Your impact will always shine on the children's lives and will be a special part of the parent's journey of having little kids

“

I'm more confident as a parent, I'm more confident having my daughter around other children and adults which has helped with her milestones. From my first week at group till now I can personally see the difference in myself. I'm not as anxious about going to group (before the thought of going and not knowing who would be there made me feel physically sick) I'm more open to sharing my experiences as a parent to other mums now instead of just sitting quietly. Being around other mums in a safe space has helped build my confidence as I know I can openly talk about any struggles I've had over the week or any days where my anxiety has been really bad without feeling like I'm being judged

“

Home-Start played a big part in reducing the isolation we felt as a family.

“

I feel like I know who I can turn to for support when I need it as well as knowing who I can turn to for help. Going to perinatal has helped me make friends with other mums with children the same age as mine. Staff are always very welcoming and can tell straight away when your having a bad day or not feeling yourself, that helps a lot as sometimes just having someone ask if your okay and tell you they understand how your feeling and that it's okay to feel that way is sometimes all you need to hear.
