Description

Our BSc (Hons) Business aims to provide a stimulating, multicultural learning environment in which students aspire to become global citizens capable of contributing effectively and responsibly. At LCIBS we seek to foster internationalism and professionalism providing programmes that embody a spirit of international understanding and cooperation, allied to a high-level of professional capability and responsibility. During your studies at LCIBS you will understand and engage with the following: The changing and dynamic nature of business-related disciplines within an interconnected globalised and complex world; the influences/ impact that externalities, such as the political and economic environments, have upon business and society; the on-going development of careers within a business-related environment and the need to continually enhance and develop a range of skill sets to participate both within a business and societal context. You will also learn how to develop a level of emotional resilience to operate within challenging environments; be adaptable and flexible to the changing needs of organisations and society as a whole; global diversity in terms of cultures, ethical behaviours, communication, environmental awareness and social responsibility; learn and develop through a range of group and individual practice-oriented learning experiences; develop self-reflection, self-critical and personal skill sets; explore areas of both personal and career interest through the pathways and acquire competencies in interpersonal skills that will be beneficial to a future career.
