

Residential Charging Program

The EOS Linx Residential Charging Program simplifies home EV charging for homeowners and multi-unit communities with flexible subscriptions, financing, and future-ready technology. Home charging cuts costs by 50-70% per mile compared to gas and can save EV owners over $1,000 annually. With federal tax credits covering up to 30% of installation costs* and a potential 3-5% property value boost, EOS makes EV charging affordable, convenient, and a smart investment. Subject to federal tax guidelines.*
