BLOC

Pauline Deltour

Treating colour as a material, Bloc side tables are based on the idea of recreating a hand-drawn cube, using different tones and shades to suggest an optical illusion.

Hidden in the plywood structure is a drawer with a soft-open mechanism, disguised by the block colours of the outer surfaces. Available in three sizes, the design is highly versatile and can add playfulness and a compact graphic character to a wide range of interior environments, from the home to the office.

The BLOC coffee tables are colourful plywood boxes in contrasting high-pressure laminate finishes. They come with black dowel feet as standard and can be paired with castor wheels (optional) and a storage soft-open drawer (optional).

THE DESIGNER

French designer Pauline Deltour founded her eponymous studio in Paris in 2010. Working at a wide range of scales, from furniture to public spaces, her creations blur the boundaries between design and art. Deltour describes her aesthetic as both severe and delicate – a reflection of her own personality.
