Founders' Update

In the last quarter of 2022, web3 as a whole faced many of the same challenges as it did the previous two quarters. There were a lot of external pressures, prices were down – but the true builders in the industry just kept building, and players kept on playing. Despite the market conditions affecting gaming tokens as much, if not more than the market average, our players were still able to generate over US$2.75 million in rewards from dedicating their time and effort to playing games.

In November, YGG hosted the first Philippine Web3 Festival, which was a great success, both in commercial terms and based on the feedback we received from sponsors, partners and our player community. We were joined by the Black Eyed Peas' Apl.de.Ap, who has been helping launch the careers of Filipino artists for many years, including giving web3 creatives their start via the First Mint Fund. Apl has taken the Filipino language to the world with several hits over the years, and when he performed the Tagalog (Filipino) Black Eyed Peas' song "Bebot" at the Philippine Web3 Festival, it felt like a nice reminder that the Filipino web3 community had also made its mark on the world stage – and YGG remains at the center of that movement.

As the web3 world came together in Manila for the Philippine Web3 Festival, it was the perfect opportunity for us to gather the leaders within the YGG network for the first SubDAO Summit. Since day one, we've all worked together to further the YGG mission throughout the world. It was inspiring to hear all the progress that has already been made and wonderful to see new collaborations and global initiatives forming in real time.

Through 2022, our game partners have been working hard on their games – and our community is ready to play. We will be attending the largest game developer conference in the world, the Game Developers Conference (GDC), in San Francisco in the first quarter of 2023, which will no doubt see a series of major releases from our partners.

The crypto market may be chaotic now, but we remain anchored to our community, our partners and our vision for the coming year. We continue to boost web3 education through Web3 Metaversity, drive the growth of esports with YGG Elite and YGG Rising Star, encourage more participants to build their Metaverse résumé through the Guild Advancement Program (GAP), and support more of our game partners as they launch. As we close this quarter and venture into another year of growth, building and community, we do so with confidence that there are more great things to come.

YGG Leadership Update

The core team at YGG remains focused on building product (soon to be unveiled) and honing in on strategic partnerships to expedite the guild's product buildout. YGG's core team welcomed six new members and is seeking to hire a Senior Product Manager. The guild is proud to introduce the following new members who have joined its core team:

- Hun Pascal Park joined the Esports team as Creative Manager. In this new role, Hun will drive tournaments, online creative projects and player development to support YGG's esports strategy.
- Serge-Raymond Nzabandora will strengthen the guild's strategic partnerships and business development efforts as a part of the Ecosystem Development team.
- Syl, a long-standing community member and self-proclaimed Thetan Arena aficionado, joined the Media team, focused on YGG TV, esports tournament content and livestreams.
- Deezele has a dual role of Technical Project Manager for GrowthOps and Product Engineering.
- Karras joined the Dev team as a senior software engineer and front-end developer.
- Henry joined the FinOps team and is focused on accounting.

YGG is continuing to monitor its treasury and conserving funds where possible to ensure 20 months of runway for operating expenses under current market conditions.

In Q4, YGG streamlined its business development funnel to ensure alignment across the greater YGG network in order to amplify its service offerings in close partnership with its geographical subDAO partners. In preparation for upcoming game launches, the guild ramped up its conversations with game partners to ensure that they are wholly supported by YGG at the time of their launch.

Scholar Stories

YGG Scholar Stories shares a look at how the guild has impacted the lives of people in its community.

Angelica & Bryle

When Angelica's parents had to stop working, she put her studies on hold so her siblings could continue going to school. It was her boyfriend Bryle who introduced her to YGG, until she soon became an Axie Infinity scholar like him. Angelica and Bryle found a sense of community in the guild, where they have made new friends and discovered a new way to bond with each other through Axie. Watch their story here.

Philippine Web3 Festival

In November 2022, the first Philippine Web3 Festival was hosted by YGG and BlockchainSpace in Manila, bringing together a diverse group of attendees from the web3 community including gamers, builders, investors, developers, educators and artists from all over the world.

The festival served as a platform for YGG to reinforce its leadership position in the space and create a conduit for its partners and investors to connect with their target communities thanks to the Philippines' status as a hub for web3 technology.

Below are some key highlights from the Philippine Web3 Festival:

- Speakers from YGG included Colin Goltra, Gabby Dizon, Beryl Li and Mike Ovecka, as well as members of the YGG Pilipinas team such as Luis Buenaventura, Kat Gonzalez and Een Mercado.
- Representatives from YGG subDAOs such as Irene Umar of YGG SEA, Akio Tanaka of YGG Japan, Christy Choi of SKYGG, Nico del Pino of Ola GG, and Abhishek Anand of IndiGG shared their subDAO's focus for onboarding more users into web3.
- A number of YGG partners participated in the event, including Ian Estrada of XLD Finance, Renz Chong of BreederDAO, Ash Mandhyan of MetaverseGo, Carlos Otermin of Unlockd, Ryan Yang of Big Time Studios, Kent Byers of Civitas, and Brian Akaka of Laguna Games and Crypto Unicorns.
- YGG investors were also present at the event, including Yat Siu of Animoca Brands, Brian Lu of Infinity Ventures Crypto, Ryan Foo of Delphi Digital, Shi Khai Wei of LongHash Ventures, and Juno Chen of SevenX Ventures.
- Apl.de.Ap of the Black Eyed Peas had a fireside chat with Leah Callon-Butler, Director of Emfarsis, where he spoke about the importance of art and how technology is making it easier for Filipino artists to showcase their work to a global audience.
- Gabby Dizon of Yield Guild Games, Peter Ing of BlockchainSpace, and April and Sevi Agregado of Sevi Loves Art presented a PHP 1,000,000 donation to Apl.de.Ap's philanthropic efforts after his fireside chat and live performance.
- YGG Pilipinas was able to secure sponsorships from GCash, Globe, MetaverseGo, Binance, Huawei, Angkas, Polygon, XPLA, MetaCene, MixMarvel, Rangers Protocol, BNB Chain and XY Finance. The conference was cash flow positive for YGG, achieving a 92% satisfaction rate from sponsors.
- The Philippine Web3 Festival had over 2,000 in-person attendees, 110,700 online viewers, and a total online reach of 32.2 million.

With the success of the inaugural Philippine Web3 Festival, YGG is looking forward to more opportunities to bring together its community, partners and the wider web3 ecosystem through in-person events.

YGG Community

Guild Advancement Program (GAP)

In December 2022, YGG wrapped up Season 2 of its Guild Advancement Program (GAP), the achievement-driven community token distribution protocol that rewards members for contributing value to the guild. The program allows YGG members to build their on-chain reputation and support community growth through active participation in YGG-partnered games and other guild initiatives.

Season 2 introduced new types of non-game quests and achievements, designed for various community members such as creators, streamers, influencers and artists to display their skills and encourage participation outside of gaming.

- GAP Season 2 offered guild members 117 total available achievements, up from 45 achievements in Season 1, thanks to the participation of more YGG-partnered games.
- These achievements were tied to 13 games including Axie Infinity, League of Kingdoms, Splinterlands, CyBall, Castle Crush, Big Time, Legends of Venari, My Pet Hooligan, and more.
- Season 2's Achievement NFTs were created by 41 artists from Cryptopop Art Guild (CPAG) led by CPAG Art Director Caroline Dy, who envisioned the NFTs to look hand-painted and fit a fantasy video game aesthetic. The NFTs were directly sent to participants on-chain.
- GAP Season 2 had four times more participants than the first season. Participants were able to track their progress and claim their NFT and token rewards on the YGG dapp.

Mae-zing, YGG Game Ambassadors Lead, shared her thoughts on how the success of GAP Season 2 positively affected the Game Testers Program: "GAP Season 2 has been great for the Game Testers Program. One of the key highlights is the impressive growth in the number of participants; from 100 in Season 1, we had 393 who applied for the quests this season. The increase in qualified participants is notable too, as the number of qualified participants has increased fourfold since the last season. Needless to say, Game Testers are eagerly awaiting Season 3."

Player Engagement

In Q4, YGG launched a second YGG Guild Badge on the Polygon network for increased accessibility due to lower gas fees. Since November 4, over 14,000 community members minted their badge on Polygon, joining the 23,104 Ethereum Guild Badge holders, bringing the total number of Guild Badge holders to 37,104 by end of Q4 2022. Guild Badge holders may access the following benefits:

- Access to the YGG dapp, exclusive Discord channels, and esports content and events
- Free access to the Web3 Metaversity platform through YGG's partnership with Nas Academy
- Access to YGG Rewards Vault and Guild Advancement Program (GAP) for additional rewards

Despite the change in market conditions in 2022, the YGG scholarship program generated US$2,764,848 from six games: Axie Infinity, CyBall, Fancy Birds, Genopets, Crypto Unicorns and Castle Crush. Of the rewards generated, US$1,778,731 went directly to the YGG player community.

The Game Tester and Game Ambassador programs, alongside the Guild Advancement Program (GAP), have been an effective way for the players within the YGG community to earn rewards through their efforts and dedication while adding value to YGG's gaming partners.

Reward Vaults

The second iteration of YGG Reward Vaults introduced two new game partners, League of Kingdoms and Thetan Arena. Participants can participate by staking their YGG tokens in the vaults to earn a bridged version of LOKA tokens or THG tokens as rewards.

"The YGG Reward Vaults program is an effective way to engage the YGG community while being an efficient and innovative approach to rewarding Guild Badge holders. This allows us to gain much greater insight into the relationship between our player community and our game partners as we continue to evolve our reward programs."

– KnightAV, Head of Product Development

YGG Elite Esports Update

YGG has solidified its position as a leader in the rapidly advancing web3 esports landscape through a dedicated emphasis on esports competitions and team development within the guild.

- YGG Elite now has 13 players while YGG Rising Stars has 86 players. Pomchi is the first female web3 esports player to be added to the YGG Elite roster. Additionally, Tersaik from Argentina, Staz from the Philippines, and Toen and Blue from Japan joined the lineup this quarter.
- YGG hosted the Axie Open Manila as part of the Philippine Web3 Festival. The tournament featured 196 players competing for a US$250,000 prize pool. YGG Elite players Kousei and Elm0momo both secured the top 16 spot in the tournament.

Mike Ovecka, YGG Head of Esports, stated, "Esports in the web3 gaming scene is not just about playing. It's about creating an immersive, engaging and competitive experience for YGG players to connect, compete and build their reputation on a global scale."

YGG Network Update

YGG regional subDAOs take a hyper-localized approach to address the distinct needs of YGG's global community. Operating autonomously with direct counsel from the core YGG team, these subDAOs offer individualized services, regionally focused engagement, and support for cultural diversity.

Network Update

- YGG SEA built a platform for community engagement called “the Hub” and established offline presences in Southeast Asia with the aim of onboarding 1 million community members and 120 game partners in 2023.
- IndiGG is growing rapidly, focused on building their community through microguild leaders called “clan chiefs.” The number of clan chiefs increased from 200 to 1,169 by the end of 2022.
- Ola GG is using data analysis to create tailored products and a questing system for users to gain experience and access benefits. They are also launching a tournament platform for members.
- BAYZ held a leadership summit, participated in community events, and is developing web3 tools and tech platforms for creators based on a survey of the web3 gaming landscape.
- YGG Japan released Gabee Town, a platform that provides web3 games from Japan, built to produce competitive gamers from interactions between players through various games.
- Troy has started using GodmodeHQ, a website that provides user and revenue data on web3 games, DeFi protocols, and NFT collections for those looking to grow their user base.
- AMG DAO launched its Stream2Earn program to encourage community members to create content for associated games as they strive for the “most-streamed” position for multiple games.
- SKYGG kept its focus on esports, acquiring two first-person shooter (FPS) teams that compete in Overwatch and Rainbow Six Siege. They are also fielding a team in this season of Axie Infinity.

SubDAO Summit

YGG held its first-ever SubDAO Summit on November 18, 2022, in Manila during the Philippine Web3 Festival. The summit was organized to provide internal updates, share ideas, communicate strategies, and define concrete points of cooperation for the year ahead. It also promotes alignment among all of the groups to achieve the shared goals within the YGG network.

YGG SEA, IndiGG, Ola GG, YGG Japan, BAYZ and SKYGG were in attendance at the summit. Each organization spoke about the work they are doing in their region, sharing insights about the various channels they use to reach their audience, offline activation strategies, and how to better understand users to support them fully. They also discussed streamlining ways to collaborate, explore synergies and share strategies around partnerships and coordination for esports tournaments.

"We are more aligned than ever. The subDAO summit was a success in fostering cooperation and working towards a common goal. Despite market challenges, the power of our network was evident, and we look forward to continuing this progress in future meetings."

– Andy Chou, Head of Ecosystem Development

"The biggest unlock of the summit was each group recognizing that different parts of the system are being built, and we can leverage the strengths of each one," said YGG co-founder Gabby Dizon.

While each regional subDAO is autonomous from the main guild, they all support the overall mission of YGG: to onboard new users onto the open Metaverse and create new opportunities for players worldwide in digital worlds. Moving forward, the YGG subDAO network will come together for similar discussions at least once or twice a year, taking turns hosting the group in their specific region.

Partnerships Update

Through various partnerships and initiatives such as the Game Tester and Game Ambassador programs, YGG works directly with games, guilds and infrastructure projects that are building the future of the Metaverse.

New Game Partnerships in Q4

The table below outlines the new games that YGG partnered with this quarter.

NEW GAME PARTNERSHIPS FOR Q4

Swords of Gargantua

Swords of Gargantua is an online 4-player VR sword-fighting game. Players use their Meta Quest controllers as swords and shields in the virtual world, with every movement reflected in the virtual space. The harder a player swings, the stronger damage they inflict on the hordes of enemies that guard the final boss, Gargantua. After a successful first run, the game will return in early 2023, adding an exciting new experience to the YGG gaming ecosystem.

Castaways

Castaways is an open-world sandbox MMO game. Although it is still in its alpha stage, the game's developer, Branch.gg, completed a US$12.5 million seed round led by Dragonfly and Polychain. Players work together to build environments, participate in mini-games and trade resources. YGG has acquired 34 of the 1,000 total Castaways Genesis Character NFTs to build a thriving community in the game, which provides opportunities to progress and work cooperatively as a guild. Recently, it experienced growth and now has 20-30k daily active users.

Existing Game Partners Update

YGG game partners posted a lot of progress updates in Q4 with many launching playable games, expanding their gaming assets and introducing more governance options for token holders.

PROJECT	UPDATE

War Riders	NFT Property sale went live in December to acquire Garage NFT Property Titles and earn BZN.
Zed Run	Zed Run hosted a month-long celebration inspired by the 2022 World Cup.

Partnership Summary

The team approached new partnerships with a higher level of caution in the final quarter of 2022. As market conditions remained uncertain due to the collapse of FTX and the risk of contagion, the guild took greater care not to risk deploying funds unnecessarily. In total, YGG finalized two partnerships, which closed at a value of US$129,056.

In 2022, YGG formed 33 new partnerships across games (20 game partnerships), guilds (five guild/subDAO partnerships) and infrastructure (eight web3 infrastructure partnerships). The total cost of these partnerships in 2022 was US$7.69 million.

TOTAL PARTNERSHIP SUMMARY
	GAMES (TOKEN)	GAMES (NFT)	GAMES TOTAL	GUILDS	P2E INFRA	TOTAL

Disc. at 31.12.2022	8.17%	8.64%	8.40%	70.94%	4.20%	41.72%

Since inception, YGG has closed 83 partnerships at a total cost of US$18.37 million. The valuation of those partnerships as of December 31, 2022, was US$31,517,909. Market sentiment has been down for multiple quarters in 2022, but with many partners' roadmaps filled with launches and updates, these games are likely to receive strong interest and enthusiasm from the YGG player community.
