The use of cookies

We use cookies for technical purposes to ease the use of our services and to give you as a user relevant information when you visit our website. By using our services you accept the use of our cookies unless you have deactivated cookies in your browser. In your browser settings you can choose which cookies should be allowed, blocked or deleted.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file which is stored in your computer or other communication device, which contains information that makes it possible for the website to recognize your device.

How does Greater Than use cookies?

We use the information from cookies to create a more user friendly website and to make it possible for us to provide more customized content to our customers. Cookies can contain information like user settings or information regarding which type of content and adverts that you've taken part of on our website. The information that is stored can be records about how you have moved through our website and what you've used on our website, which browser you are using, which adverts you have seen and how you have moved between the different websites that we collaborate with. Cookies from external providers may be used to measure traffic, simplify advertising management and to improve the functionality of the website. We may also use cookies from external providers to simplify adverts on our website. These cookies trace activity on our website and is used to customize ad deals to you.

How can I control my cookies?

You can choose to accept cookies or not to accept cookies. You have the option to choose if you want cookies to be saved automatically in your device, if you want to accept each time a cookie is saved or if you do not want any cookies to be saved. You do this by changing your browser settings to not accept cookies. How you do this depends on which browser you are using. If you are using multiple devices, you need to follow the same process on each browser you are using. If you choose to turn off cookies, some parts of our website will not be as smooth and simple as intended. For more detailed information regarding cookies you can visit: <http://www.allaboutcookies.org>
