NCAA HISTORY

Notre Dame has competed in 27 NCAA Championships. Their streak of 24 straight appearances came to an end in March of 2021. It was the fourth longest active streak in the country and fifth best all-time.

The Irish are 69-25 all-time in the NCAA Tournament, as their 69 wins rank fourth all-time.

Notre Dame joins Louisiana Tech, USC and South Carolina with two NCAA titles behind UConn (11), Tennessee (8), Baylor (3) and Stanford (3).

Notre Dame is one of three schools (Tennessee & UConn) to reach seven NCAA Title games. Their nine Final Four appearances are the fifth-most of any school behind UConn (22), Tennessee (18), Stanford (15) and La Tech (10).

The Irish have reached 10 Elite Eights. In fact, Notre Dame and UConn are the only teams to reach the Elite Eight eight times over the last 11 tournaments. Yet, the Irish have been more successful than any other regularly-appearing school at that stage, as their .900 winning percentage (9-1) is the best of any program to play in at least five Elite Eights.

Finally, Notre Dame has advanced to 18 Sweet 16s.

MILES MAKES ND HISTORY (AS A SOPHOMORE)

It's far from surprising, but Olivia Miles 2021-22 dominance has continued into her second full season. Miles was named the ACC Player of the Week on Dec. 5 and Dec. 19, and she posted her third career triple-double against Merrimack. With the 13 points, 13 rebounds and 14 assists, Miles passed Skylar Diggins and Jackie Young for the most career triple-doubles in a Notre Dame uniform. There have been just 11 triple-doubles in the history of the program.

Notre Dame's leader in points (15.0), rebounds (7.2), assists (7.0) and steals (2.2), the dynamic passer turns heads and drops jaws each time she steps onto the court.

"It is impossible not to watch Olivia Miles when the basketball is in her hands, whether she's making a one-handed pass, finishing with flair at the rim or showing off her handles,” ESPN writer Katie Barnes recently said. “Basketball is rhythmic. Certain things happen at specific times. Miles disrupts the rhythm. Her unorthodox choices, like throwing a one-handed pass across her body with her left hand while off balance, might appear to be, at times, ill-advised. But defenses rarely see it coming.”

Over a four-game stretch in December — No. 20 Maryland, No. 3 UConn, Merrimack and No. 6 Virginia Tech — Miles was 28-54 (.519) from the floor and averaged 9.0 rebounds and 8.8 assists per game. The UConn game was one of eight times this year she has led the Irish in scoring, and Miles was responsible for Notre Dame’s first seven points against the Huskies.

Miles produced 17 5-5-5 ‘Stat-Sheet Stuffer’ games last season, and she already has 13 this year. A stat-sheet stuffer is when you get five or more in the three major stat categories. No other Irish player had more than four last year.

The coaches have said, and will continue to say, Notre Dame’s season will go as Miles’ season goes. Both are running like a well-oiled machine.

ALUMNI WNBA SUCCESS

The Irish dominated the WNBA this year.

Jackie Young won a WNBA title with the Las Vegas Aces, becoming just the second former Irish player to win a national title, Olympic gold medal and WNBA championship.

Skylar Diggins-Smith was a member of the All-WNBA First Team.

Diggins-Smith and Arike Ogunbowale both averaged 19.7 points per game last season, which was tied for third in the league. They led their respective teams, the Phoenix Mercury and the Dallas Wings. Four of the top 12 scorers in the WNBA last year were once Irish — Diggins-Smith, Ogunbowale, Jewell Loyd and Young.

Ogunbowale also averaged 2.8 three-pointers per contest, which ranked third in the WNBA.

In keeping with the theme of “third,” Mercury forward Brianna Turner was third in the WNBA last year with 1.6 blocks per game.

SIXTH PLAYER OF THE YEAR LOADING?

Ivey picked up three transfers this offseason, and all three women have made an immediate impact, especially given Notre Dame’s relatively small roster.

Oregon transfer Kylee Watson has started 19 of 19 games for the Irish this year. She’s averaging 6.3 points, 3.7 rebounds, and the 6-4 forward is shooting .568.

But Texas transfer Lauren Ebo has stolen the show recently despite coming off the bench for the first 19 games. In addition to a .514 success rate from the floor, Ebo is posting 9.9 points and 7.0 rebounds every time she takes the floor. The center had her first double-double in an Irish uniform against Ball State (11p/10r) and a career high 20 points against Arizona State. She posted a second double-double against Miami on Dec. 29 and a third against Florida State on Jan. 26.

While the Irish faced a disappointing finish at North Carolina, Ebo blew her previous rebounding record out of the water. The graduate center had 19 boards, topping her old best of 14 set at Texas.

Her name peppers the individual rankings among ACC bench players. Excluding the stats from her start against the Seminoles, Ebo ranks first in the conference in total made field goals (65), points (176), rebounds (123) and is second in made free throws (46) behind Bransford. It's difficult to find a more important sixth player in the conference.

IRISH (LARGELY) PASS BIG NON-CON TESTS

Before seeing an ACC foe, Notre Dame saw five Power Five teams. The Irish went 4-1 against those squads, their one loss coming against Maryland in the ACC/B1G Challenge. The Terrapins' do-it-all superstar Diamond Miller's 31 points and buzzer-beating shot gave them the 74-72 win. The game remains a very solid loss, as Maryland checked in at No. 13 in the most recent AP Poll.

But talk about a bounce back. On Dec. 4, archrival UConn visited Notre Dame to reignite arguably the best rivalry in women's basketball. The Huskies led the series 39-13 all-time, but recent years had yielded mixed results. Prior to the 2022 game, the Huskies had won two straight games and had not lost at Notre Dame since 2013.

That changed in front of a sold-out crowd. The Irish came out on fire, shooting 65.4 percent in the first half and holding the third-ranked Huskies to just 24 points, their third-worst first-half output since the 2017-18 season.

Notre Dame walked away with a 74-60 victory and a renewed confidence after the heartbreaker to Maryland. It was Coach Ivey's first win over UConn as a head coach after decades of involvement in the rivalry both as a player and an assistant.

KK BRANSFORD: SIGNED, SEALED, DELIVERED

Ivey was extremely high on her only summer-enrollee this year, KK Bransford (No. 29 overall in the 2022 class). The head coach compared her body type to that of Jackie Young, who went on to be the 2019 No. 1 overall WNBA Draft pick after averaging 12.4 points, 6.3 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game over her three-year career in South Bend.

So far, Bransford looks like she can play with the best of them. A noticeably physical player, she had a career-high 27 minutes against Florida State, and she's posting 8.1 points and 2.8 rebounds per game with a 47.8 percent success rate from the floor. She ranks second in the ACC in points per game amongst true freshmen who come off the bench. She leads in total points (157).

Bransford had a career afternoon against Ball State with 16 points (plus going 8-8 from the free throw line), and she posted 14 and a career-high nine rebounds against the Sun Devils in the Bahamas. She topped that career-high in the points category on Jan. 1, putting up 17 points against Boston College (11 of those were in the first half). Bransford was 5-5 from the floor.

"Every game I just go in and try to be as aggressive as I can," Bransford said after topping the Eagles. "Once I got in the game today, I just felt it and went with it. I feel like this gym is starting to feel like my home gym, so that's [great]. I just feel a lot more comfortable."

A PREMATURE END TO MABREY'S IRISH CAREER

Notre Dame lost its leader for the season on Jan. 22, as graduate student and captain Dara Mabrey went down with an injury just a couple of minutes into the game against Virginia. She will miss the remainder of the year due to an ACL injury.

A transfer from Virginia Tech, the 3-point specialist finished her collegiate career with 301 deep buckets (146 at Notre Dame). She topped both of her sisters in that category, as Michaela made 228 and Marina made 274. Both of them started and finished their careers at Notre Dame, and Marina holds the program record for career 3s in an Irish uniform. All-in-all, the Mabreys totaled a whopping 803 splash-downs.

Dara's on-court performance (and stout defense) was important to Notre Dame over the last three years, but perhaps what has been even more crucial is her emotional leadership. She poured her heart and soul into the team, and she served as the heart and soul for the girls who came through the program.

CLIMBING THE NET RANKINGS

The NCAA NET Rankings are updated through Jan. 30, and the Irish checked in at No. 6 once again. They were No. 9 in the initial NET rankings, and No. 6 is the highest they have climbed this year.

The most important metric in college basketball, the NET Rankings incorporate wins and losses, strengths of opponents, game location and metrics for both offensive and defensive efficiency. It is the foundation for the NCAA selection committee's process come March.

South Carolina remains the top team on the list, and Notre Dame is pacing the ACC. Five other ACC schools made the top 25: Duke (8), NC State (12), Florida State (15), UNC (18) and Virginia Tech (22).

ND ADDS ANOTHER AS CALENDAR YEAR ENDS

Ivey's roster gained another elite recruit as the sun set on the 2022 calendar year. Five-star 2023 signee Cassandre Prosper announced in early December that she would enroll early, and she officially joined the team for practice on Dec. 26. Prosper is just the second recruit to ever make the early transition to South Bend, joining current Notre Dame guard Olivia Miles.

She made her Irish debut at Miami and recorded a rebound and a block in three minutes of play. It was Prosper's home debut, however, that really served as her coming out party. The rookie played nearly 17 minutes, put up 7 points and came down with 9 rebounds against Boston College. She led the Irish in the latter category on the day. Her first collegiate basket was from behind the arc and was met with a standing ovation from both the bench and the Purcell Pavilion crowd.

She hit two treys and posted 12 points against Wake Forest. Her back-to-back 3-pointers against NC State last weekend got the Irish back into the game.

"It was extra special because everyone was so excited for me," Prosper said after her Purcell debut. "I hit the three, and the whole bench, coaches, Sonia [Citron] who had just passed me the ball...everyone was just so happy for me. It made it even more amazing to hit my first college shot."

Prosper hails from Montreal, Quebec, attended Cairine Wilson Secondary School, and played for Capital Courts Academy. She is the No. 16 overall recruit per the ESPN HoopGurlz Recruiting Rankings, making her one of 24 five-star prospects in the nation. The Canadian product was the Finals MVP for the 2022 Ontario Scholastic Basketball Association Final 8 High School Championships last March after posting 33 points, 15 rebounds and two assists. She was also the season's league MVP and earned academic honors as well.

While Prosper stands at 6-2, she is a game-changing shooter as well. Per the OBSA website, Prosper averaged 23.2 points, 13.2 rebounds and 2.6 assists per game over 10 contests last year. She shot 41.2 percent from the floor and hit 10 three-pointers as well.

Basketball runs in the Prosper family. Her older brother, Olivier-Maxence, is a junior forward at Marquette. Prosper's mother played college basketball for both Manhattan College and Concordia University, while her father played the duration of his college days at Concordia.

MEETING 2 OF 2

Notre Dame and Boston College have already seen each other this year, as the Irish hosted the Eagles for a New Year's Day matchup. Notre Dame won 85-48, their second-most points in a conference game this year.

Miles and Bransford led the Irish with 17 points each, and Citron had 15. The game served as a coming out party for Prosper, who recorded 9 rebounds. In total, the team shot 53.5%.

Eagles center Maria Gakdeng recorded 6 blocks against Notre Dame, and no opponent has reached that mark since. The Irish held Boston College to 0 3-point shots, marking the first time they did not allow a basket from behind the arc since 2012.

KAREN & KEVIN KEYES HEAD COACH

3RD SEASON

14 COMBINED YEARS AS A COACH

IVEY BIO

One of the finest point guards ever to wear the Notre Dame uniform, Niele Ivey (first name pronounced knee-elle) was announced as the fourth Karen & Kevin Keyes Family Head Women's Basketball Coach on April 22, 2020, just mere minutes after Muffet McGraw stepped down from her post after a Hall of Fame career.

Ivey is the common link to all nine of the program's Final Four appearances, two as a player and seven as an assistant coach, logging a combined 18 years on Notre Dame's campus (13 as a coach and five as a player).

"I am so honored to be able to follow in the legacy that Coach McGraw built here at Notre Dame," Ivey stated. "My love and appreciation for Coach McGraw is beyond anything I can express. She's more than a mentor, more than a friend, she's one of the most influential people in my life. I am full of gratitude for Coach McGraw and what she has done for me. She was the first to give me an opportunity to play for Notre Dame and coach here as well. I will forever be grateful for her love and support. I would also like to thank Jack Swarbrick and Father Jenkins for having the faith to move this program forward with me. I can never thank you enough for this incredible opportunity."

In her first year at the helm, Ivey not only had to balance settling into her new role with a young roster but also navigating the waters of both a national pandemic. In a shortened season due to Covid-19, Ivey's squad went 10-10 (8-7). In her first week on the job, Coach Ivey received verbals from now-sophomores Sonia Citron and Olivia Miles, who made up a top-five nationally ranked recruiting class.

As an assistant, the Irish went 386-55 (.875) during Ivey's time patrolling the sidelines. Notre Dame's recent decade of dominance (2010-19) had Ivey's handprints all over it – no other program had produced more trips to the national title game (six), and the Irish posted the third-most wins in that span as well (339).

That decade also consisted of 14 conference championships (eight regular-season plus six tournament titles split between the BIG EAST and ACC), seven Final Fours and a 2018 national championship.

Ivey expanded her basketball prowess when she stepped away from Notre Dame to accept an assistant coaching position with the Memphis Grizzlies for the 2019-20 season. Ivey proved to be a true trailblazer, becoming the ninth active female coach in the NBA.

Over that year, Ivey helped develop a young team, with a new coaching staff, into a playoff contender. Ivey worked with several different position groups with the Grizzlies, but primarily with standout guards Jarlen Jackson and Ja Morant, as the latter won 2020 NBA Rookie of the Year honors.

Ivey originally joined the Fighting Irish women's basketball coaching staff in May 2007 (she added the title of recruiting coordinator in 2012 and was promoted to associate head coach in the summer of 2015). Ivey went on to spend 12 seasons under Coach McGraw before departing for the Memphis Grizzlies.

Over her last eight years in particular as an assistant, Notre Dame ranked in the top-12 in field goal percentage (led the country in 2013-14 season), scoring offense and assists. In fact, Notre Dame's offense over its back-to-back title game runs in 2018 and 2019 was one for the record books. The 2018 championship squad ranked in the top five in all the aforementioned categories. Meanwhile, the 2019 Irish took home the statistical championship for top-scoring offense in the country, averaging a program-record 88.6 points per game. In addition, they broke the program record for assists (804) while finishing second in shooting percentage (50.8 percent). The stat that is the icing on the cake to all of this — the 2019 starting five of Ogunbowale, Mabrey, Shepard, Turner and Young went down as the most prolific scoring fivesome in the history of NCAA Division I basketball (men's or women's), amassing an astonishing 10,230 combined career points.

In addition to her achievements in player development with such proteges as All-Americans Skylar Diggins, Jewell Loyd, Lindsay Allen and Arike Ogunbowale, Ivey emerged as a rising star on the recruiting trail, with a sharp eye for young up-and-coming talent. In fact, she helped Notre Dame attract top-12 incoming classes in nine of her last 10 years. In her last class, Coach Ivey nabbed No. 6 Samantha Brunelle and No. 18 Anaya Peoples. Fast forward to now and Coach Ivey nabbed a top-five recruiting class in year one.

What's more, Ivey displayed brilliant prowess when it came to scouting and in-game strategy. In her last six years as an assistant, she was directly responsible for creating the game plans that led to victories over Duke (12 times), Tennessee (8 times), Florida State (7 times), Connecticut (5 times), Maryland (three times), Louisville (8 times), Syracuse (7 times), UCLA (three times), Baylor (twice), Texas A&M (3 times) and South Carolina, among many others.

In fact, Notre Dame is 5-3 all-time against UConn in the NCAA Tournament, which more than doubles the next best team's win total. Overall, over her last 12 years, the Irish have knocked off the Huskies nine times, while all other Division I teams combined for 10 wins.

All things considered, it was no surprise when Ivey was chosen as the inaugural recipient of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) Division I National Assistant Coach of the Year award in 2016.

Most notable players under Ivey's tutelage: Arike Ogunbowale, Jewell Loyd and Skylar Diggins-Smith. Ogunbowale was a two-time All-American, two-time Ann Meyers Drysdale Award finalist and the 2018 Final Four MVP after her famous Ice Twice. Ogunbowale graduated as the program's all-time leading scorer. Ivey helped mold Loyd into one of the country's top players from 2012-15. Loyd finished with 1,909 points and a 17.0 career points-per-game average. Loyd's best performances came against Top 25 teams, in which she averaged 22.8 points, 6.5 rebounds and 3.2 assists per game, including a school record-tying 41 at DePaul. Then there's Skylar Diggins-Smith. Under Ivey's guidance, Diggins-Smith made a seamless transition from shooting guard to point guard during her final three seasons, emerging as one of the nation's elite players to become one of just three two-time recipients of the Lieberman Award and a two-time consensus first-team All-America and BIG EAST Player of the Year selection. Diggins-Smith graduated in 2013 as the holder (or co-holder) of no fewer than 32 game, season or career records at Notre Dame, and ranks among the top five on an astounding 105 of the program's game, season or career charts.

Ivey sat out most of her freshman season at Notre Dame (1996-97 Final Four campaign) after suffering a season-ending knee injury five games in. However, she was awarded a fifth year of eligibility in 2000-01 and made the most of it, earning third-team AP All-America honors, the first Fighting Irish point guard to be so recognized. She also was the recipient of the 2001 Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award (nation's top senior player standing 5-foot-8 or under) and was a finalist for the 2001 Lieberman Award. In addition, Ivey made the 2001 NCAA Women's Final Four All-Tournament Team after averaging 16.5 points and 5.5 steals per game as the Fighting Irish defeated Connecticut and Purdue to win their first national title.

All told, Notre Dame went 109-22 (.832) during Ivey's last four seasons, reaching the NCAA Sweet 16 three times (1998, 2000, 2001) and rolling up a (then) school-record 34 wins in 2000-01. The Fighting Irish also won a share of their first BIG EAST regular-season championship in 2000-01 and were ranked in the top 10 of either or both the Associated Press and WNBA/USA Today polls for all but two weeks during her final three campaigns. While at Notre Dame, Ivey was a three-time all-BIG EAST selection (1999-2001), collecting first-team honors in 2001, and was tapped as the BIG EAST Player of the Week five times. She also led the Fighting Irish in steals in each of her final four seasons (1997-98 to 2000-01) and was the team's assist leader in her last three years, setting school records with 95 steals in 1999-2000 (since topped by Diggins) and 247 assists in 2000-01, along with a school-standard 2.67 assist/turnover ratio the latter season.

Ivey went on to play five seasons in the WNBA, beginning with her selection by the Indiana Fever in the second round (17th overall pick) of the 2001 WNBA Draft. She spent four seasons with the Fever, helping them to the first playoff berth in franchise history in 2002. Ivey signed with the Detroit Shock as a restricted free agent in 2005, and subsequently was acquired by the Phoenix Mercury later that season.

A native of St. Louis, Ivey graduated from Notre Dame's College of Arts and Letters in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in history.
