THE OPENING KICKOFF

• Stanford football stays on the road this week with a Saturday contest against No. 3 Notre Dame at Notre Dame Stadium. Kickoff is slated for 12:30 p.m. PT on NBC and Peacock.

• The Cardinal is attempting to snap a 13-game losing streak away from home, the longest such streak in program history and tied for the longest active streak in the country with Ball State. Stanford's last road win came in its first-ever ACC game, at Syracuse on Sept. 20, 2024.

• Quarterback Davis Warren opened the season with 167 consecutive pass attempts without an interception, tying him with Davis Mills in 2020 for the longest such streak to open a season in Stanford history. His streak came to an end against Wake Forest after a pass bounced off a receiver's foot and popped into the air. He had the most pass attempts in FBS without an interception up to that point.

• Despite some offensive struggles against Wake Forest, Stanford has shown the ability to push the ball downfield in the air. The Cardinal has five passing plays of at least 40 yards, and three of at least 50 yards, both ranking in the top half of the ACC.

• Through five games, Stanford has not lost the turnover battle and is +4 in turnover margin. This is the first time since 2019 that Stanford has gone five straight games without losing the turnover battle. The Cardinal is tied for third in the ACC in turnover margin and, with just two turnovers this season, is tied for the fewest in the ACC. Only New Mexico, No. 3 Notre Dame, and No. 7 Indiana have fewer nationally.

• With turnovers forced every game to begin 2026, the Cardinal is one of 20 FBS programs to record a turnover in all its games to begin the season. Stanford and California are the only teams in the ACC with a turnover forced in every game in 2026.

• Stanford has not won a road game against a ranked team since Sept. 11, 2021, at No. 14 USC, a current streak of 10 consecutive losses. Stanford's last non-conference win over a ranked team away from home was the 2016 Rose Bowl Game win over No. 6 Iowa.

• Stanford and Notre Dame are playing for The Legends Trophy this weekend. The Cardinal most recently won this coveted trophy in 2022, beating the Fighting Irish 16-14 in South Bend. The rivalry has been split over the last decade-plus, with Stanford winning eight of the last 16 matchups.

GAME NOTES

THE MATCHUP

• Stanford and Notre Dame meet for the 40th time on Saturday afternoon and the 19th time at Notre Dame Stadium.

• Last season, both programs closed out the regular season on The Farm, with Notre Dame winning 49-20. Despite the lopsided result, Stanford held eventual top-five NFL draft pick Jeremiyah Love to just 66 rushing yards, his third-fewest rushing yards in a game during his 2025 season.

• Stanford last picked up a win at Notre Dame Stadium in 2022, the team's most recent win against Notre Dame. The Cardinal won 16-14 thanks to a Joshua Karty field goal in the fourth quarter, his third of the game. Tanner McKee threw for 288 yards, and Stanford's defense recovered two Notre Dame fumbles.

• The Legends Trophy was created by the Notre Dame Club of the San Francisco Bay Area and is made, appropriately, from Northern California redwood with an Irish crystal bowl. The Legends Trophy is named in honor of the 1925 Rose Bowl meeting, which was said by sportswriters to contain more legends on one field than had ever played the game.

ON THIS DAY IN STANFORD HISTORY...

...No. 12 Stanford earned a massive upset win over No. 4 USC 24-14 in 1970. It was Stanford's first win against USC since 1957 and snapped a 25-game winning streak in the regular season for the Trojans. Jim Plunkett finished the game with 275 passing yards and a touchdown to tight end Bob Moore, helping his cause for his eventual Heisman Award-winning season. The famed "Thunder Chickens" defense for Stanford held its own, with a pair of goal-line stands against USC to keep the Trojans out of the end zone. Stanford would go on to win the Pac-8 and upset Ohio State in the 1971 Rose Bowl Game, the fourth Rose Bowl Game win in Stanford history.

TAVITA IS BACK

Tavita Pritchard was named the Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football on Nov. 28, 2025. Pritchard is the 37th head coach in program history and a 2009 graduate of Stanford.

Pritchard most recently spent three seasons as quarterbacks coach of the Washington Commanders, having mentored Jayden Daniels, Jacoby Brissett, Sam Howell and Marcus Mariota. During his tenure with Washington, Pritchard played a major role in developing the Commanders' offense, highlighted by an appearance in the 2024 NFC Championship Game. Pritchard returns to The Farm in the spirit of Stanford's rich legacy of NFL coaching talent, including Bill Walsh, Denny Green, Jim Harbaugh, David Shaw and Vic Fangio.

Pritchard guided Daniels, the second overall pick in the 2024 NFL Draft, through one of the most impressive rookie seasons in NFL history in 2024, as Daniels was named AP Offensive Rookie of the Year, qualified for the Pro Bowl, and established multiple records in his debut. Daniels, who totaled 3,568 yards, 25 passing touchdowns, and a 69.0 percent completion rate, finished the season with a combined 31 touchdowns, which ranks third all-time for a rookie quarterback in NFL history.

A four-year letterwinner for the Cardinal from 2006-09, Pritchard appeared in 31 career games and made 20 starts, throwing for 2,865 yards and 15 touchdowns.

Pritchard made his first career start against USC on Oct. 6, 2007, and engineered an epic 24-23 upset of the second-ranked Trojans in the Los Angeles Coliseum when the Cardinal was a 41-point underdog. His 10-yard game-winning touchdown pass to Mark Bradford on fourth down with 0:49 left in the game secured his spot in Stanford football lore.

Pritchard started all 12 games as a junior in 2008 and threw for 1,633 yards and 10 touchdowns, helping Stanford to a 5-7 record. He relinquished his starting duties to Andrew Luck in 2009. Pritchard saw action in five games that season, capped off by a start in the Sun Bowl for an injured Luck.

Following his graduation, Pritchard began a lengthy coaching career with the Cardinal, serving in a variety of roles during a stretch that featured 10 consecutive bowl games, nine straight Big Game victories, and appearances in three Rose Bowls (2013-14, 2016), Fiesta Bowl (2012), and Orange Bowl (2011). After joining the staff as a graduate assistant in 2010, Pritchard served as defensive assistant (2011-12) and running backs coach (2013).

Pritchard was promoted to the role of quarterbacks/wide receivers coach in 2014-17, coaching quarterback Kevin Hogan as the Cardinal ended the season with dominant victories over USC in the Pac-12 Championship Game and Iowa in the Rose Bowl. From 2018-22, Pritchard was elevated to serve as the Andrew Luck Director of Offense and Kevin M. Hogan Quarterbacks Coach.

A native of Tacoma, Washington, Pritchard earned a communication degree from Stanford. He and his wife, Caroline, met as undergraduates and have four children, three of whom were born at Stanford Hospital. Pritchard is also the only Power Four head coach of Samoan descent and one of just four with Pacific Islander heritage.

NFL EXPERIENCE ON STAFF

One point of emphasis for Tavita Pritchard and Andrew Luck in the offseason was building a coaching staff with deep NFL ties. Heading into Coach Pritchard's first season, the Cardinal has done just that.

On defense, Stanford brought in two coaches with previous stops in the NFL, most notably Kris Richard. One of the architects of the "Legion of Boom" in Seattle with former Cardinal Richard Sherman, Richard is Stanford's Willie Shaw Director of Defense and Defensive Backs coach. Richard spent 13 seasons coaching in the NFL, including three seasons as a defensive coordinator. Additionally, Cory Robinson was added as the team's cornerbacks coach and defensive passing game coordinator. He coached with Richard in both New Orleans and Jacksonville.

On offense, three new hires had previous stops in the NFL. The Andrew Luck Director of Offense, Terry Heffernan, spent five seasons in the NFL with the Detroit Lions and Buffalo Bills before his first stint on the Farm (offensive line, 2021-22). Keli'i Kekuewa, Stanford's offensive line coach, came directly from the Jacksonville Jaguars, part of a six-year run in the NFL. Brian Bratton was brought on board as The Krishnamurthi Wide Receivers Coach and spent the last four seasons with the Indianapolis Colts.

A STANFORD WIN WOULD...

- Snap a 13-game road losing streak, the longest in program history and tied for the longest active streak in the country.
- Put Stanford at .500 at the midway point of a season for the first time since 2021.
- Be the Cardinal's first win at Notre Dame since 2022.

NATIONAL CHAMPION PEDIGREE

Stanford announced Davis Warren as the team's starting quarterback prior to its Week 0 matchup against Hawai'i. The sixth-year signal caller from Manhattan Beach, Calif., returns to his home state for his final season of college football.

Warren's journey is remarkable. As a junior at Loyola High School in Los Angeles, Warren was diagnosed with acute myeloid leukemia (AML). Warren underwent four rounds of chemotherapy, and his body responded positively, ruling out the need for a bone marrow transplant. He reclassified to the Class of 2021, playing his final season of high school football at the Peddie School in New Jersey.

His return to football caught the eye of former Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football Jim Harbaugh, who was the head coach at Michigan. He offered Warren a spot on the roster as a walk-on, one that Warren accepted rather than playing at a smaller institution. He made his collegiate debut as a sophomore in 2022 and played in eight total games from 2022-23.

Following Michigan's 2023 National Championship, Warren beat Alex Orji for the starting quarterback job in 2024 and started nine games, throwing for 1,199 yards with seven touchdowns. He tore his ACL in the team's 2024 ReliaQuest Bowl win over Alabama and missed the 2025 season. Warren transferred to Stanford in the winter.

As a sign of his immediate impact as a leader in the locker room, he was Stanford's nominee for the Jason Witten Collegiate Man of the Year award.

THE DAVIS DETAILS

Davis Warren might not receive the national attention of other quarterbacks in the ACC, but he has been one of the best in the league when it comes to taking care of the ball.

Most notably, Warren began the season with 167 pass attempts before his first interception thrown. That was the longest streak in FBS, and it tied a Stanford record for the most pass attempts without an interception to begin a season, joining Davis Mills, who did so in 2020.

The only starting quarterback in the ACC with at least 100 passing attempts and no interceptions is Miami's Darian Mensah. Only Ethan Grunkemeyer of Virginia Tech (177) has more pass attempts this season than Warren (173), who is averaging 34.6 per game. His 1,207 passing yards through five games rank eighth in the ACC.

BALL IS LIFE!

Through five games, Stanford has not lost the turnover battle and is +4 in turnover margin. The Cardinal has also forced at least one turnover in all five games this season.

This is the first time since 2019 Stanford has had a five-game stretch without losing the turnover margin. The Cardinal is tied for third in the ACC in turnover margin, and with just two turnovers on the season, Stanford is tied with four other teams for the fewest in the ACC.

At the FBS level, New Mexico, Notre Dame, and Indiana are the only teams with just one turnover this season. Stanford joins 16 other teams with just two turnovers. Stanford's +4 turnover margin is tied for 26th in the nation.

With turnovers forced in every game to begin 2026, the Cardinal is one of 20 FBS programs to record a turnover in all of its games. California is the only other ACC program on that list.

IF I HAD TWO DOZEN ROSES...

Matt Rose blossomed into one of the best linebackers in the ACC during his senior season, and he returns for his fifth year as one of the anchors of the Cardinal's defense.

Through four games in 2026, Rose has 38 tackles, with two games of at least 11. Rose leads the ACC in tackles per game with 9.5 and ranks fifth in the conference in total tackles despite missing one game with injury. Nationally, he is 15th in the country in tackles per game.

His game against Georgia Tech was notable, leading the Cardinal in tackles with 11 and finishing with a career-high 2.5 tackles-for-loss. The last Cardinal to record that stat line in a game was Bobby Okereke in 2017 against Washington.

Rose finished his first season as one of the team's starting inside linebackers by recording 106 total tackles, the most by a Cardinal since Blake Martinez in 2015. He ranked second in the ACC in tackles and was top 25 in the country at the end of the regular season.

Rose was recognized on the Butkus, Bronco Nagurski, and Chuck Bednarik Award preseason watch lists heading into 2026, among other accolades.

BUILT FORD TOUGH

Micah Ford turned into a true bell cow back as a sophomore and has been heavily relied on to lead the Stanford backfield.

Ford began the season on a tear, carrying the ball 25 times for 99 rushing yards with three touchdowns in Week 0; 85 of his rushing yards came in the first half. He was the only running back in FBS to have multiple rushing touchdowns in Week 0, and the first Stanford back with 90+ rushing yards and three touchdowns in a game since Bryce Love in 2017. He was named ACC Running Back of the Week following the performance.

Through Week 5, Ford ranks second among ACC running backs in carries (82) and is tied for fifth in rushing touchdowns (4). He has already tied a career-high in rushing touchdowns.

Ford finished 2025 with 643 rushing yards in nine games with four rushing touchdowns. The last Cardinal running back with four rushing touchdowns in a season was Casey Filkins in 2022. His 643 rushing yards were the most in a season by a Stanford running back since Cameron Scarlett in 2019 (840).

Ford posted three 100-yard games last season, including a pair of 150-yard performances in ACC play (Boston College, California). Austin Jones was the last Cardinal with at least three 100-yard rushing games in a season. Ford was the first Cardinal since Bryce Love in 2017 with multiple games of 150 rushing yards or more.

CD ON KR

Chris Davis Jr. has been busy returning kicks this season and is among the national leaders for returners.

Entering Week 6, Davis Jr. leads the ACC in kick return yards with 284, good for fifth in FBS. His 14 kickoff returns are also the most in the nation. At 20.3 yards per return, he has Stanford's kick return unit averaging its highest yards per return mark since 2021.

FARM FRESH

Stanford has been much better on The Farm than on the road going back to 2024 but has an opportunity to change that narrative on the road in Week 6.

The Cardinal has lost 13 consecutive road games, the longest streak in program history. Stanford's last road win came on Sept. 20, 2024, in its first-ever ACC game, a 26-24 win at Syracuse. It is tied for the longest active road losing streak in FBS with Ball State.

Going back to 2024, Stanford is 7-3 over its last 10 home games. All four of Stanford's wins in 2025 came at home, posting a 4-2 home record, the team's best mark on its home grass since 2018. This included some marquee moments as well: the team's ACC opener, a Homecoming Reunion win over Florida State, and a 128th Big Game win against California.

Statistically speaking, the Cardinal has fared much better at home than on the road. The Cardinal has scored 266 points in its last 10 home games (26.6 points per game) and just 137 points in its last nine road games (13.7 points per game). During that same span, Stanford is averaging 376.3 yards per game at home and just 265.7 on the road, a difference of over 110 yards.

Since the start of the 2023 season, Stanford has forced 33 turnovers at home and just 13 in road games.

BODY CLOCK GAMES

Teams cannot control what time their games kick off at, but Stanford has been on both sides of the advantage since joining the ACC.

Since 2024, Stanford is 3-0 when hosting an ACC opponent that plays in the Eastern Time Zone for a 7:30 p.m. PT kickoff, including its 34-27 win over Georgia Tech in Week 4.

On the flip side, Stanford is 0-3 since transitioning to the ACC when playing at 9 a.m. PT, with road losses in each of the last three seasons.

The last time Stanford won a game when the kickoff time was before 12 p.m. PT was the 2018 Sun Bowl vs. Pitt (11 a.m. PT kickoff). Stanford's last regular season win with that early of a kickoff came in Week 2 at Army (9 a.m. PT kickoff).

2026 SCHEDULE HIGHLIGHTS

In the first season with Tavita Pritchard at the helm, Stanford plays a challenging schedule, with several opportunities for statement wins.

The biggest note on Stanford's 2026 schedule is that nine of its 12 opponents won at least eight games from one season ago, making it one of the toughest schedules in the country. Based on 2025 winning percentage, Stanford has the third-toughest schedule in the country, with an opponents' winning percentage of 0.643. Only North Carolina and Ohio State project to face more difficult schedules.

Furthermore, Stanford and North Carolina are the only FBS programs scheduled to face nine opponents who won at least nine games last year. For Stanford, all ACC opponents except Virginia Tech and California reached that benchmark last year, with additional non-conference games against Hawai'i and Notre Dame.

Per ESPN's Strength of Schedule index, Stanford has the 10th-most difficult schedule in college football. Only Clemson has a more difficult schedule among ACC teams.

With a game already completed against Miami, Stanford is one of nine FBS programs playing a participant from the previous College Football Playoff Championship game in consecutive seasons (Notre Dame '25 and Miami '26).

Based on the preseason AP Poll, Stanford faces four ranked teams in 2026: No. 4 Notre Dame, No. 7 Miami, No. 19 SMU, and No. 24 Louisville.

TRANSFER TALK

One year after taking in the most transfers in program history, Stanford was not in a position to need significant additions in the transfer portal in 2026.

The Cardinal welcomed 17 transfers for the 2025 season, more than all previous transfers in program history combined (14). Heading into 2026, Stanford added just six from the transfer portal during its most recent cycle.

While that number seems low, Stanford did not lose much in the transfer portal, either. Only five players who played at least 150 snaps a season ago left via the transfer portal, a number that ranks in the top 20 among other FBS programs. Duke (3) and Clemson (4) are the only ACC programs to lose fewer in the portal.

RETAINING TALENT

On the note of retaining players year over year, Stanford ranks in the upper half of the ACC.

The Cardinal brings back 32,410 career snaps this season, according to ESPN's Bill Connelly. That ranks seventh in the ACC. When looking at snaps returning from the 2025 season, Stanford brings back 60% of its scrimmage snaps from one year ago, ranking fourth in the ACC.

WHERE THEY'RE FROM

Stanford student-athletes on this year's roster hail from 29 states, plus Canada.

There are a total of 14 student-athletes from Texas, the largest representation of student-athletes from outside of California (27) on the team. Behind Texas is Georgia (7), while New Jersey and Pennsylvania have six. Two student-athletes are from Canada (Brendan Delaney and Benedict Umeh).

Total: California (27), Texas (14), Georgia (7), New Jersey (6), Pennsylvania (6), Florida (5), North Carolina (4), Tennessee (4), Arizona (3), Colorado (2), Hawaii (2), Idaho (2), Indiana (2), Iowa (2), Louisiana (2), Massachusetts (2), Mississippi (2), Nevada (2), New York (2), Utah (2), Washington (2), Wisconsin (2), Connecticut, Illinois, Maryland, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Virginia.

CARDINAL ON EASTERN TIME

After a unique 2025 schedule that saw Stanford as the only FBS program to play in five time zones, 2026 is shaping up in a similar way when it comes to travel.

Excluding Hawai'i, Stanford is the only FBS program in 2026 scheduled to play five games at least three time zones away from their home location. For the Cardinal, that means five games in the Eastern Time Zone, with all five of those games taking place between Sept. 19 and Nov. 14 (nine-week span).

Taking into consideration every road game this season, Stanford will travel 21,755 miles for road games, the most of any program in the country, excluding Hawai'i. California ranks second in the ACC at 18,101, but aside from the two West Coast schools in the ACC, Boston College is closest in terms of expected miles traveled at 11,646. For comparison, Duke will travel the fewest miles this season at just 3,714.

Stanford will cross 15 time zones for games this season, which trails only Hawai'i (20). Arizona State will also cross 15 time zones for its travel this year, with the Sun Devils ranking fifth in terms of overall miles traveled.

RECENT DRAFT SUCCESS

The Cardinal has had 59 draft picks since 2010, fourth among ACC schools, behind only Miami, Florida State, and Clemson. For the first time since 2023, the Cardinal had multiple draft picks in 2026.

Sam Roush was the first Cardinal off the board when he was chosen 69th overall (3rd Round) by the Chicago Bears. Roush had the sixth most career receiving yards by a Cardinal tight end since 1956 and became the 16th Stanford tight end selected in the draft since 1970. CJ Williams was taken 203rd overall (6th Round) by the Jacksonville Jaguars, making it the second year in a row a former Cardinal wideout was drafted to an AFC South team (Elic Ayomanor, Tennessee, 2025).

STANFORD IN THE NFL

There is a rich tradition of Stanford success in the NFL, and that tradition is still alive in the 2026 NFL season. There are currently 26 former Cardinal on NFL rosters.

The NFL's AP Comeback Player of the Year is Christian McCaffrey, who began his tenth season in the league and his fourth full season with the San Francisco 49ers in Australia. Already in 2026, he has scored four touchdowns, giving him 102 in his NFL career, becoming one of three players to score at least 50 touchdowns with two NFL franchises. After missing most of 2024 with injury, McCaffrey was a workhorse in 2025, leading the NFL in touches with 413, turning those into 2,126 scrimmage yards and 17 touchdowns. He caught 102 passes to lead all running backs, becoming the first running back in league history with at least 100 receptions in three seasons. McCaffrey is one of four former Cardinal to earn at least four Pro Bowl nods in his career.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the season was Michael Wilson, who burst onto the scene for the Arizona Cardinals. Wilson started 13 games in the desert and recorded 1,006 receiving yards with seven touchdowns. 775 of those receiving yards came over the final eight weeks of the season, which trailed only Puka Nacua of the Rams. The last Stanford receiver to eclipse 1,000 yards in a season was Doug Baldwin in 2016. He also recorded a 185-yard performance against San Francisco on Nov. 16, 2025, that finished as the second-most receiving yards in a game by a receiver.

Tight End University continues to be on display with five on active rosters. Colby Parkinson had a breakout year in 2025, racking up eight touchdowns, tied for third among tight ends in the league. All eight of his scores came in the final nine regular season games for the Los Angeles Rams. Dalton Schultz has gotten off to hot start for the Houston Texans, including a 12-catch, 140-yard performance in Week 2 against Cincinnati. He is the fourth former Cardinal to put up that stat line in an NFL game. Austin Hooper reached the Super Bowl with the New England Patriots last year and signed a one-year contract with the Atlanta Falcons in the offseason, returning to the team that drafted him in 2016. Hooper scored a touchdown on Thursday Night Football for the Falcons in Week 3. Elijah Higgins scored a touchdown for the Cardinals in Week 4, his first touchdown of the season. Zach Ertz also re-signed with the Philadelphia Eagles, now in his 14th season in the league and second stint with Philadelphia.

One of the last to sign in preseason, Bobby Okereke signed a one-year contract with the Carolina Panthers and made a quick impact on the reigning NFC South champions. On the first drive of the Panthers' Week 1 game against Chicago, Okereke forced a fumble that Carolina recovered, and in Week 2, he intercepted Cooper Rush. Okereke has recorded over 100 tackles in four of the last five seasons.

EPITOME OF A STANFORD MAN

Stanford student-athletes go on to achieve great things at the professional level, both on the field and off. During the 2025 NFL season, Bobby Okereke (New York Giants), Curtis Robinson (San Francisco 49ers), and Solomon Thomas (Dallas Cowboys) were nominees for the Walter Payton Man of the Year award. Stanford was one of five universities to have multiple nominees for the award (Clemson, Mississippi State, Notre Dame, Utah State), but the only school with three nominees.

Widely regarded as the league's most prestigious honor, it was renamed in 1999 after the late Hall of Fame running back, Walter Payton. Each team nominates one player who has had a significant positive impact on their community.

Bobby Okereke took on a leadership position as the General Manager of Team Nigeria's men's and women's national flag football teams and created Nigerian American Football Outreach, Inc., to develop opportunities for youth in Nigeria through the sport. Curtis Robinson focuses on education in his community efforts, inspired by his mother's dedicated career as a college professor. He participates regularly with the 49ers' EDU stadium classroom and Social Justice Player Committees, as well as coaching over 400 youth in flag football events. Solomon Thomas continued to champion mental health awareness with impactful public appearances and community efforts, using each opportunity to empower others with tools to recognize signs of struggle and foster supportive environments.

TWO ADDITIONS TO STANFORD HALL OF FAME

The Stanford Athletics Hall of Fame welcomed 10 former student-athletes on Sept. 25, including former football greats Kevin Hogan and Owen Marecic. They were honored at halftime during Stanford's win over Georgia Tech.

The Class of 2026 included Inky Ajanaku (women's volleyball), Kevin Hogan (football), Kristian Ipsen (men's swimming and diving), Onnie Killefer (field hockey), Owen Marecic (football), Ali Riley (women's soccer), Erika Roddy (women's rowing), Laura Shane (lacrosse), Erik Shoji (men's volleyball) and Kawika Shoji (men's volleyball).

Hogan is the winningest quarterback in Stanford history, amassing 36 wins across four seasons, including a 3-1 record in bowl games. He is one of three quarterbacks to start in three Rose Bowl Games (2012, 2013, 2015), leading the Cardinal to wins in "The Granddaddy of Them All" in 2012 and 2015. He holds the Stanford record for rushing yards by a quarterback (1,249) and rushing touchdowns by a quarterback (15). Hogan was drafted in the fifth round of the 2016 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs and appeared in nine NFL games.

Marecic is one of the most prolific two-way players in college football history, spending time at both fullback and linebacker during his career. He was the inaugural recipient of the Paul Hornung Award (2010), presented annually to the most versatile player in college football. A standout on the field (2010 AFCA First Team All-America) and in the classroom (2010 NFF Scholar-Athlete of the Year and CSC Academic All-America Second Team), Marecic was selected in the fourth round of the 2011 NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns and played in 24 career games.

THE HOME OF CHAMPIONS

Stanford owns the greatest streak in college athletics, having won at least one NCAA team title in each of the past 50 years (dating back to the 1976-77 campaign), the longest streak in NCAA history. Stanford leads the NCAA with 139 team titles, including two NCAA team championships during the 2025-26 campaign - men's gymnastics and women's golf - increasing its overall total to 178. Stanford is one of six programs with at least one national championship in football, baseball, and men's basketball, and the only school with at least one in football, baseball, men's and women's basketball.

Men's gymnastics extended the streak on April 18, 2026, by winning its sixth NCAA championship in seven years, putting the Cardinal at the historic 50-year mark. The next longest active NCAA title streak is held by five schools at just six years.

From 1995-2019, Stanford won 25 straight Division I Learfield Sports Directors' Cups. The Cardinal enters the 2026-27 year with 26 of the 33 total Directors' Cups, most recently capturing the elusive award during the 2022-23 season.

STANFORD SCORIGAMI

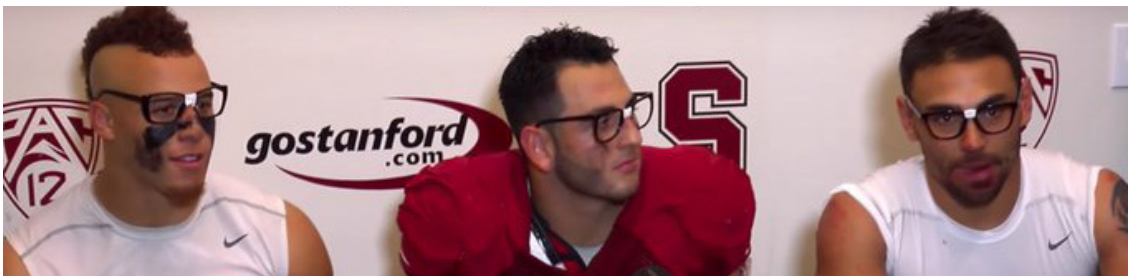

Scorigami is a concept developed by Jon Bois at SB Nation that has taken over social media in recent years. Scorigami tracks final scores that have never happened before, initially in the NFL, and now for Stanford football. Through Week 5 of the 2026 season, there have been 729 unique results in Stanford football history. The following are the Stanford Scorigami results for the 2026 season:

- Stanford 37, Hawai'i 27. That's a Scorigami! It is the 725th unique result in Stanford football history.
- No. 7 Miami 45, Stanford 6. That's a Scorigami! It is the 726th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Duke 35, Stanford 7. That's a Scorigami! It is the 727th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Stanford 34, Georgia Tech 27. That's a Scorigami! It is the 728th unique result in Stanford football history.
- Wake Forest 57, Stanford 3. That's a Scorigami! It is the 729th unique result in Stanford football history.

NERD NATION

Stanford has long been regarded as one of the premier institutions in both athletics and academics, and the football team's tight end room exemplifies this on a yearly basis. Every tight end on the roster took his headshot with white tape in the middle of large, black-rimmed glasses to signify "Nerd Nation," a movement that was created over a decade ago in 2013.

Following a 2013 win at Oregon, Shayne Skov, Tyler Gaffney, and A.J. Tarpley showed up to the team's post-game press conference with those very same bulky glasses with tape over the bridge. Naturally, they were asked about it, and they described it as embracing what it means to be a Stanford student-athlete. Skov, now the Executive Associate AD for Strategy at Stanford, explained, "It's Nerd Nation. We take pride in what we do."

One of the most prominent women's basketball alumni, Chiney Ogwumike, helped start the movement during a basketball shoot-around. She heard the popular song Rack City, by Tyga, and thought, "What if we changed that to 'Nerd City'?" She wound up writing full lyrics for a Stanford version, and with the help of her sister Nneka, rapped it in front of her teammates in the locker room before a film session.

It caught on, and a music video was eventually created, which brought "Nerd Nation" into a brand-new light. According to Chiney, who now works at ESPN as a basketball analyst, the point of it all was "to show at Stanford you can be a student and an athlete and still be cool. You can redefine what 'nerd' means to you."

TAVITA PRITCHARD

BRADFORD M. FREEMAN DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL
1ST SEASON AS HEAD COACH AT STANFORD
14TH SEASON OVERALL AT STANFORD

Tavita Pritchard was named the Bradford M. Freeman Director of Football on Nov. 28, 2025. Pritchard is the 37th head coach in program history and a 2009 graduate of Stanford.

"Winning in college football today requires a leader of men who can build and motivate teams, recruit future stars, and develop and connect with talent," said Stanford football general manager Andrew Luck. "Tavita Pritchard is exactly the right head coach at the right time to help us build on the foundation of this season and lead Stanford football to its next great era. Coach Pritchard is a culture builder, a teacher of football of the highest caliber, and a humble yet determined servant leader who is committed to the success of Stanford's student-athletes. I could not be more excited to welcome Tavita, Caroline and their family back to campus."

"Stanford is a place like no other and my family and I are full of gratitude to be returning home in every sense of the word," said Pritchard. "I have a clear vision of the hard work, brotherhood and tenacity it will take to build a championship Stanford football program. I cannot wait to partner with Andrew and begin working with the best student-athletes in the world to achieve excellence on and off the field."

Pritchard most recently spent three seasons as quarterbacks coach of the Washington Commanders, having mentored Jayden Daniels, Jacoby Brissett, Sam Howell and Marcus Mariota. During his tenure with Washington, Pritchard played a major role in developing the Commanders' offense, highlighted by an appearance in the 2024 NFC Championship Game. Pritchard returns to The Farm in the spirit of Stanford's rich legacy of NFL coaching talent, including Bill Walsh, Denny Green, Jim Harbaugh, David Shaw and Vic Fangio.

Pritchard guided Daniels, the second overall pick in the 2024 NFL Draft, through one of the most impressive rookie seasons in NFL history in 2024, as Daniels was named AP Offensive Rookie of the Year, qualified for the Pro Bowl and established multiple records in his debut. Daniels, who totaled 3,568 yards, 25 passing touchdowns and a 69.0 percent completion rate, finished the season with a combined 31 touchdowns, which ranks third all-time for a rookie quarterback in NFL history.

"Tavita will be a fantastic head coach, and I believe he will be especially effective at Stanford," said Commanders head coach Dan Quinn, who is in his second season with the organization. "Players gravitate to him, and he quickly earned their respect and mine. Tavita is smart, collaborative, diligent and he brings people together. He is the perfect coach to build a winning program in today's college football landscape."

"If I had a son playing college football, I'd want him to play for Tavita Pritchard," said Commanders offensive coordinator Kliff Kingsbury. "Tavita has a unique ability to build relationships, and I've never seen a quarterback room as tight and unified as the one he has molded."

"I'm playing the best football of my career, and Tavita is helping make that possible," said Washington quarterback Marcus Mariota. "His weekly process and preparation are elite. Tavita understands exactly what each team member needs, and he breathes confidence into us. Tavita's connection with players is second to none, and his demeanor sets the tone. He lets you play free and genuinely wants players to be the best versions of themselves."

A four-year letterwinner for the Cardinal from 2006-09, Pritchard appeared in 31 career games and made 20 starts, throwing for 2,865 yards and 15 touchdowns.

Pritchard made his first career start against USC on Oct. 6, 2007, and engineered an epic 24-23 upset of the second-ranked Trojans in the Los Angeles Coliseum when the Cardinal was a 41-point underdog. His 10-yard game-winning touchdown pass to Mark Bradford on fourth down with 0:49 left in the game secured his spot in Stanford football lore.

Pritchard started all 12 games as a junior in 2008 and threw for 1,633 yards and 10 touchdowns, helping Stanford to a 5-7 record. He relinquished his starting duties to Andrew Luck in 2009. Pritchard saw action in five games that season, capped off by a start in the Sun Bowl for an injured Luck.

Following his graduation, Pritchard began a lengthy coaching career with the Cardinal, serving in a variety of roles during a stretch that featured 10 consecutive bowl games, nine straight Big Game victories and appearances in three Rose Bowls (2013-14, 2016), Fiesta Bowl (2012) and Orange Bowl (2011). After joining the staff as a graduate assistant in 2010, Pritchard served as defensive assistant (2011-12) and running backs coach (2013).

Pritchard was promoted to the role of quarterbacks/wide receivers coach in 2014-17, coaching quarterback Kevin Hogan as the Cardinal ended the season with dominant victories over USC in the Pac-12 Championship Game and Iowa in the Rose Bowl. From 2018-22, Pritchard was elevated to serve as the Andrew Luck Director of Offense and Kevin M. Hogan Quarterbacks Coach.

"Getting the chance to work with Tavita again in Washington has been one of the most enjoyable parts of my career," said Commanders' tight end and Stanford's 2012 unanimous first-team All-American Zach Ertz. "I've seen firsthand how much Tavita has grown since we were together at Stanford – as a coach, as a leader and as a person. He connects with players at every level and brings out the best in everyone around him. I have full confidence that he and Andrew will build a Stanford football program that every former player, every alum and the entire Stanford community will be incredibly proud of."

"Tavita Pritchard is the next important piece in our comprehensive effort to restore Stanford football to a winning tradition," said Stanford's Jaquish & Kenninger Director and Chair of Athletics John Donahoe, who began his tenure on Sept. 8, 2025, after serving as former CEO of NIKE, eBay and ServiceNow. "Tavita is an exceptional leader and his appointment, coupled with the strong fundraising success we are experiencing, will help build the foundation for our success and leadership in football."

A native of Tacoma, Washington, Pritchard earned a communication degree from Stanford. He and his wife, Caroline, met as undergraduates and have four children, three of whom were born at Stanford Hospital.
