ARTICLES & STORIES

NO JET LAG VS. MERCYHURST

Any doubts or concerns over jet lag or an Italy hangover were put to bed almost immediately after the opening tip vs. Mercyhurst. The Fighting Irish jumped out to a 14-0 lead, which was later extended to 25-7, and never looked back. The Lakers scored the first four points of the second half to cut the gap to 11 points, but the Irish responded with its longest run of the Shrewsberry era - 17 points. ND ultimately won 83-56.

The Irish shot over 50 percent from the field each half, finishing 28-of-52 (.538) in the game. They drained 15 three-pointers (15-of-32, 46.9 percent) for the first time since Jan. 14, 2023. The Blue & Gold also outrebounded Mercyhurst 32-22, which included limiting them to zero first-half offensive rebounds.

Ethan Roberts led the Blue & Gold in scoring that night with 18 points. He missed just one shot from the field (6-of-7) and drained three triples.

FLOOR GENERAL

Notre Dame has reaped the benefit of having an experienced floor general commanding the team out on the court. In fact, Braeden Smith's fingerprints have been all over ND's 2-0 start.

Versus Villanova, it wasn't just the fact he co-led the team with 16 points; it was what he did down the stretch.

Out of the final media timeout, Smith sank three straight free throws to make it 66-63. He had the assist on the Koehler dunk. He had a steal then assisted on the Duncomb three. He gathered the rebound after the Koehler block and called a timeout. On Villanova's final shot, he boxed out an opponent so more time came off the clock.

Smith ultimately scored or assisted on 15 of ND's final 19 points vs. Villanova (7 points, 3 assists).

"I think it's this guy right here, man," Coach Shrewsberry said. "The poise that he has. He kind of wills you to the right moments. I can be talking to somebody that's subbing in, but he's got the other four guys huddled, and we're all on the same page late-game. And I thought we did a good job of handling those situations."

Against Mercyhurst, Smith tied his career high of 10 assists to go along with his five points. He earned an assist on four of the team's first seven made baskets of the game.

BREAKOUT BRADY K

The basketball world took notice of Brady Koehler after his impressive 16-point, 8-rebound, 2-steal, 2-block performance vs. Villanova. He recorded two memorable moments down the stretch, which included a takeoff poster dunk and a huge block on a corner-three attempt.

"Brady Koehler's a beast," Coach Shrewsberry said after the game. "He was so good late and down the stretch for us, defensively and offensively."

In game two, Koehler tied his career high of 17 points, missing just one shot from the field. He went a perfect 4-for-4 from beyond the arc, marking a new career best in made triples.

Through two games, the sophomore is shooting 60.0 percent from the field and is 5-for-8 from three.

SCOUTING EASTERN ILLINOIS

The Irish view the coming days as Vegas prep in terms of short prep and getting the body ready to go. They'll play two home games in a three-day span, starting with Eastern Illinois on Monday, then South Carolina State on Wednesday. The Irish and Panthers will tip off at 7 p.m. ET on ACCNX.

The 2-0 Irish will challenge a Big Ten tested 0-2 Panther squad. Eastern Illinois has only played on the road thus far, suffering losses at Indiana and Iowa.

Tanner Vogel nearly averages a double-double with 9.5 points and 9.0 rebounds per game. He's a 7'0" center from Busselton, Australia, is listed among the tallest players to ever play for the Panthers. Demar Burton also averages 9.5 points, converting 57.1 percent from the field. Burton was a Division II standout last season at Tiffin University.

WIN IN ROME

What a way to open the season. Notre Dame erased a 10-point second-half deficit, utilizing a 14-4 scoring run down the final 3:37 to topple Villanova, 74-72.

The final stretch saw a little of everything:

a beautiful Ethan Roberts cut to the basket and score, a fast-break Brady Koehler poster dunk, Logan Duncomb's first career three-pointer to push the Irish ahead, or Braeden Smith being clutch at the free-throw line. In fact, Smith scored or assisted on 15 of ND's final 19 points.

The Irish won despite shooting 35.4 percent compared to Villanova's 46.2 percent. Shooting a lower percentage than your opponent and finding a way to win was something last year's ND team never accomplished. This year's squad did it through defense and resiliency.

Notre Dame's defense forced 20 Villanova turnovers and converted that into 20 points. The last time Nova committed 20 turnovers in a game was December 1, 2019 vs. La Salle.

In addition, the Irish defense secured 14 steals, the most in the Shrewsberry era.

Next, the Irish offense dished out 14 total assists. The last time Notre Dame totaled at least 14 assists and 14 steals in the same game was Nov. 14, 2014, vs. Binghamton.

Finally, the Blue & Gold worked hard on the glass, collecting 17 offensive rebounds, which they converted into 16 second-chance points. The 17 offensive boards marked the second most in the Shrews era.

NOTRE NOTABLES

- Notre Dame landed at No. 29 in Rothstein's top-45.
- ND's KenPom heading into Monday's game is at No. 70.

- The Irish are currently averaging 14.5 assists on 25.5 made field goals.
- Smith is 9 assists away from 500 in his career
- Shrewsberry is 4 triples away from 250 in his career, which would put him in sole seventh place all-time at Notre Dame.
- Shrewsberry has started this season 8-of-18 (.444) from beyond the arc.
- Roberts is a perfect 7-for-7 from the free-throw line.
- Duncomb has drawn nine fouls through two games.

COUNTDOWN TO 2000

Notre Dame men's basketball is a richly historical program that's been around since 1897. It's a program full of history, major upsets, legendary individual performances and team glory.

The 2026-27 Fighting Irish are closing in on a major milestone. They are just 7 wins away from reaching 2,000 all-time, currently boasting a 1992-1146-2 record. They will become just the ninth team ever to reach the 2,000-win milestone.

It's impossible to encapsulate over a century of accomplishments, but here's a few By The Numbers for you:

- 92 winning seasons
- 37 NCAA Tournament appearances - tied for the 12th most
- 40 NCAA Tournament wins
- 1 Final Four appearance
- 737 wins inside Purcell Pavilion since it opened on Dec. 1, 1968
- ND has knocked off the AP No 1 ranked team eight times inside Purcell - tied for 8th most. That includes the memorable upset over UCLA on Jan. 19, 1974
- 108 ACC wins
- 13 ACC Tournament victories, which includes the 2015 ACC Tournament title
- 38 All-Americans spanning 62 honors
- 68 NBA players
- Austin Carr - NCAA Tournament scoring record holder for 61 points in a single game. His scoring average of 34.6 ppg still ranks as the 2nd highest in NCAA all-time. Carr still holds the Notre Dame scoring record, amassing 2,560 career points.

ROAD EXHIBITION TESTED

AT DEPAUL

It was one last tune-up last Friday night at Wintrust Arena for Notre Dame men's basketball. The Fighting Irish bussed up to DePaul, secured the 71-63 exhibition victory against its old Big East rival, then bussed back all in the same day.

It was the big three-point shooting night for the Irish, as Koehler, Smith, Ethan Roberts and Jonathan Sanderson each drained three triples. ND finished the night 12-for-30 from deep.

Notre Dame, who trailed by one at the half, utilized great defense down the stretch to ice the game. The Irish limited the Blue Demons to 35.7% shooting in the second half and just seven free throw attempts.

Koehler led the Irish with 19 points, plus tallied three rebounds, five assists, two steals and a block in 29 minutes.

"I think it's just super motivating," Koehler said of Shrewsberry's comments. "In the locker room, they were talking about that same stuff. And it's just like, knowing my whole team has a super-high standard for me, that just makes me want to go harder. And I mean, felt like I did that tonight."

AT DAYTON

ARTICLES & STORIES

Notre Dame's starters and top rotation guys took care of business in the first half, outscoring Dayton 38-33 behind 40.7 percent shooting from the floor, plus a 13-of-14 effort from the free-throw line. By the under-12 media timeout, Coach Shrewsberry subbed out his top-five and allowed his bench to have valuable minutes down the homestretch. Next, the Flyers outshot the Irish 43.8 percent to 34.6 percent in the second half to ultimately win 75-65.

Ethan Roberts was the lone Irish in double figures, finishing with 11 points in 20 minutes of action. ND had two sparks off the bench in Tommy Ahneman and Jonathan Sanderson. Ahneman supplied eight points on 3-of-4 shooting, Sanderson tallied nine points and two assists.

BRAEDEN CAREER CHARTS CHASING FROM THREE

Braeden Shrewsberry will be chasing several career three-pointer records and top-5/top-10 lists during his senior season.

He started the 2026-27 campaign with 238 career treys, which already cracked the program top-10. He currently boasts 246, with No. 7 Ryan Hoover up next at 248.

He's tracking to surpass 300 made threes which only three Notre Dame players have done prior:

- Colin Falls = 331
- Chris Thomas = 302
- Matt Carroll = 301

The next list to track will be career made threes in ACC play. Shrewsberry has converted 145 threes in conference play, which only trails Prentiss Hubb (157 in ACC) and Colin Falls (189 in Big East).

If Braeden were to get to 194 career threes in league play, that would put him in the top-5 all-time for any ACC player.

SHREWSBERRY LAST SEASON RECAP

Last season, Braeden Shrewsberry led the Irish in scoring five times, which included four 20+ point performances. He ultimately averaged 11.9 ppg on 39.0 percent shooting.

He drained a career best 84 threes on the year, in which he also shot a career best 40.2 percent from beyond the arc. Both his three-point percentage and threes per game (2.8) ranked third in the ACC. The percentage ranked 40th in the nation.

His best portion of the season was a three-game stretch in February when he totaled 20 points vs. Georgia Tech, 16 at SMU and 18 vs. Florida State. He was 13-29 from three in that span.

His biggest highlight was undoubtedly his career high 26 points behind a career-best 8 three pointers (8-10 from three). His 8 made triples tied for the 7th most in a game all-time in program history.

NEW LOOK IRISH

The Notre Dame roster has a completely new look heading into the 2026-27 season. The program lost nine student-athletes either to graduation or to the spring portal window, which included All-ACC selections Markus Burton and Jalen Haralson; however, Coach Shrewsberry countered by adding six transfers to go along with his three-player freshmen class.

With the additions, the Irish got older, hit areas of need and gained some NCAA Tournament experience as well.

First off, Coach Shrewsberry added three former League Players of the Year:
- Logan Duncomb = 2026 Big South Player of the Player
- Braeden Smith = 2024 Patriot League Player of the Year
- Ethan Roberts = 2023 Patriot League Rookie of the Year

Furthermore, three transfers earned All-Conference recognition last season:
- Duncomb (First Team All-Big South)
- Roberts (Second Team All-Ivy)
- Devin Brown (A10 All-Rookie Team)

Two of the transfers also bring NCAA Tournament experience:
- Roberts = 2026 Penn
- Smith = 2026 Gonzaga, 2024 Colgate, 2023 Colgate.

BIG MAN ACQUIRED

One of the impact transfers Coach Shrewsberry landed was 6-10 fifth year center Logan Duncomb. The Cincinnati native is coming off a 2026 Big South Player of the Year campaign at Winthrop. He was also a finalist for the Lou Henson Award and Nolan Richardson Award.

Duncomb finished third in the Big South in scoring (18.3 ppg) and second in rebounding (8.9). He became the second Eagle in program history to average a double-double in conference play (21.3 ppg, 10.3 rpg).

He broke the single-season record for free throws made (194) and free throws attempted (264). In addition, Duncomb posted 14 double-doubles.

Duncomb helped Winthrop to a 23-11 record, one game shy of qualifying for the NCAA Tournament.

BALL PROTECTOR

Protecting the basketball was a key offseason point for the Irish, and Coach Shrewsberry brought in one of the best in the collegiate game. Braeden Smith arrives from Gonzaga where he posted a 3.34 assist-to-turnover ratio that ranked 12th in the country. Smith played in all 35 games, helping the Bulldogs to a 31-4 record and second round NCAA Tournament showing.

As a sophomore at Colgate, Smith was named the 2024 Patriot League Player of the Year after averaging 12.5 points and 5.6 assists. In addition, Smith was named Patriot League Tournament MVP after he averaged 16.0 points, 9.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists.

EBO MAKES IT HOME

Ethan Roberts arrives to South Bend via Penn, coming off a Second Team All-Ivy season. He helped lead the Quakers to an 18-12 record, an Ivy Tournament title and NCAA Tournament appearance.

Roberts led Penn in scoring, averaging 16.9 ppg, and produced a team best eight 20+ point performances. Roberts also led the squad in free-throw percentage, converting 79.9 percent from the stripe. Furthermore, the Arlington Heights native ranked 8th in the Ivy League in three-point percentage (.404)

BUYING IN

What once used to be common is now a rarity. Braeden Shrewsberry and Logan Imes will be in select company this season, for they will officially have spent freshman-senior years, all four, at Notre Dame.

It is believed that Notre Dame is 1-of-6 high major programs that have more than one player that has never left and been there freshman-senior year.

	Been at school all 4 years
Notre Dame	Logan Imes	Braeden Shrewsberry
Virginia	Elijah Gertrude	Desmond Roberts

TOMMY'S TIME

The long journey back met its destination on November 1 in Rome. That's when sophomore Tommy Ahneman finally got to compete in his first collegiate game. Ahneman was sidelined all last year rehabbing his knee after a successful preseason surgery.

Ahneman is a great story of perseverance. In the eighth grade he dislocated his knee caps; then had knee surgery his freshman year on both knees; then missed last season to surgery and rehab as well. When asked what he wants fans to take away from watching him this upcoming season: "that I fought through adversity and that I'm super grateful to be at this university."

Ahneman was the top-ranked prospect in the state of Minnesota and a consensus top-100 recruit. He averaged 16.3 points, 10.6 rebounds and 3.2 assists as a senior at Cretin-Derham, leading them to a Class 4A State runner-up finish. As a junior, he led Sheyenne High in West Fargo, North Dakota to a Class 2A state championship.

ROUNDING OUT THE TRANSFER CLASS

Coach Shrewsberry and Associate Head Mike Farrelly had recruited Bryce Ruglass Dortch out of high school so when it was time to make a decision on a location this past spring, it was a no brainer. Last season at Rutgers, Dortch played in all 31 games, which included three starts. The 6-9 junior forward shot 66.7 percent in Big Ten play.

Devin Brown spent his freshman season at Davidson where he earned A-10 All-Rookie Team honors. Brown played in 34 games, which included 27 starts, helping Davidson to a 20-14 record. He averaged 6.4 points and 3.4 rebounds while shooting 40.8 percent from the field.

Last, but not least, is fifth-year Yoro Diallo, who transferred in from DII UVA-Wise. The 6-9 forward averaged a team-best 14.5 points and 8.0 rebounds, leading the Cavaliers to a 20-11 record. He shot 48.5 percent from the floor.

FRESHMAN CLASS HITS CLOSE TO HOME

The three-player freshman class brings a unique family dynamic to the Irish program. First up is Braeden Shrewsberry's younger brother Nick. This season will mark the first time the two have officially played together on the same team. The Shrewsberrys will represent 1-of-19 teams who will have brothers as teammates.

Nick was a 2026 Indiana All-Star, averaging 17.7 points, 7.2 rebounds, 2.0 assists and 1.5 steals as a senior. As a junior, Shrewsberry led Saint Joseph High to a 27-3 record and a Class 3A State title. He ultimately finished in the Indiana top-10 in career three-pointers made for the class of 2026 with 201.

Next up is Jonathan Sanderson, son of Notre Dame men's basketball strength coach Jon Sanderson. Jonathan was ranked 55th in his class by ESPN, 10th at his position and second best overall in the state of Indiana. Jonathan attended three high schools over his prep career, ending at La Lumiere, where he averaged 13.4 ppg, 4.5 rpg and 5.8 apg. In 2025, Jonathan won the Tennessee Gatorade Player of the Year award, along with being named a DII-AA Mr. Basketball Finalist.

Then there's Gan-Erdene Solongo, whose legal guardian became Jon Sanderson in 2023. Solongo was a four-star recruit from both ESPN and Rivals. He averaged 6.5 points and 3.4 rebounds in an injury-riddled senior season at La Lumiere. He shot 67 percent from the floor. As a junior, he led Ensworth School in Nashville to the DII-AA State semis, averaging a double-double (12.3 points, 10.1 rebounds).

ADDED JUICE TO THE STAFF

When Kyle Getter earned the head coach position at Cal Baptist, Coach Shrewsberry had to fill the vacate spot on his staff. Enter assistant coach Tony Rack, who brings an unquantifiable amount of juice to every practice.

Rack arrived to South Bend after a successful five-year stint at Winthrop, where the Eagles achieved a 101-63 record during his tenure there.

Coach Shrewsberry also added a familiar face from his Purdue days in Isaiah Thompson, who will be the program's Player Development & Recruiting Coordinator. Thompson spent the last two seasons as a graduate assistant under Matt Painter at Purdue, helping guide the Boilermakers to a Sweet 16, an Elite Eight, and a No. 1 national ranking

WHAT YOU WON'T SEE IN A BOX SCORE

The stories off the court are just as impactful and worth noting as the ones on the court. Below are just a few interesting journeys of some our players and what got them to Notre Dame.

ETHAN ROBERTS

Ethan grew up in a Catholic family that was hardcore Notre Dame fans. In fact, his dad wanted to name him Knute. Furthermore, his uncle attended the law school at Notre Dame, with his cousins finding their way to South Bend as well.

Ethan was born and raised in Memphis, before moving to Arlington Heights, Illinois, at the age of 17. He went under-recruited in high school after suffering a back injury.

He spent his freshman year at West Point where he won Rookie of the Year over now current teammate Braeden Smith. Roberts then spent one year at Drake, then two at Penn, before finally finding his way home to Notre Dame.

If you ask him why Notre Dame. Simple - it's his dream school. Roberts loves going to daily mass, and visits the Grotto often. One of his highlights this summer was the alumni weekend in which he got to meet some of his favorite Irish hoopers from years past.

LOGAN DUNCOMB

After two years at Indiana, Logan Duncomb transferred to Xavier. He was questioning if he really chose basketball so he stepped away from the game momentarily. He ultimately fell back in love with the game; he filled his time playing campus rec basketball. He then reached out to Coach

Rack and joined him at Winthrop.

In his senior season (second year at Winthrop), Duncomb impressed with 21.3 ppg and 10.3 rpg, earning the 2026 Big South Player of the Year.

He has now joined Coach Rack at Notre Dame, arriving with the fire to prove he can play with some of the best in the ACC. Duncomb has professional aspirations and wants to do something special for Notre Dame.

YORO DIALLO

Yoro was a two-sport athlete growing up, competing in both soccer and basketball. Though he quit basketball momentarily in high school, by his senior year, his best friend talked him back into the sport, joining the AAU circuit.

Next, he attended Winthrop where he redshirted his freshman season. He competed the next two seasons, appearing in 58 games, before entering the portal. Yoro was very intentional with his decision and took a leap of faith, choosing the Division II school UVA-Wise. He wanted the opportunity to expand his game and show off his guard ability. The bet paid off as Diallo averaged a team best 14.5 points and 8.0 rebounds, shooting 48.5 percent from the floor.

One can now find the slogan "Bet On Yourself" tatted on him.

JONATHAN SANDERSON

It was almost destined for Jonathan to be a basketball player. His dad went to a Final Four at Ohio State. His mom played at Mercer. He was always around college hoopers. It's how he fell in love with the game.

His competitiveness... well he got that on his neighborhood block, for he grew up around several Division I guys. To quote Jonathan, "Backyard wiffle ball was insane."

When asked what he wants fans to take away from his game this year: he's a winner, and he wants to bring his leadership aspect to the program.

GAN-ERDENE SOLONGO

Gan also boasts a unique path to Notre Dame. He didn't play basketball growing up in Mongolia. In fact, the first sport he played was volleyball. Around the age of 13/14, he was 6'9" so he gave basketball a try. At the age of 15, he had a chance to come to America on a travel visa. He first participated in the Flyght Academy in Ohio, which included housing, but after the one season he had no place to live. Through a mutual friend, Solongo got connected with the Sanderson family in Ann Arbor. Soon after, the Sandersons provided him a home through legal guardianship and Solongo acquired a student visa and enrolled at Saline High.

Gan-Erdene travelled with the Sandersons to Nashville and now South Bend, continuing to develop his game.

Fun fact: Gan is the first seven-footer to commit to Notre Dame since the turn of the century and the first recruit with Irish heritage since Ron Rowan ('83).

FATHERS COACHING THEIR SONS

Micah Shrewsberry has the unique opportunity to coach not just one, but two sons at the same time. Thanks to Kyler Ludlow at Dayton, who compiled the below list of 2026-27 fathers coaching their sons.

- College of Charleston: John Groce/ Conner Groce
- Dayton: Anthony Grant/Makai Grant
- Norfolk State: Robert Jones/Justin Jones
- North Texas: Daniyal Robinson/Reece Robinson
