

Live Animal Export - Submission [REDACTED]

- This trade is inherently cruel – and even when all regulations are followed, sheep still suffer heat stress at sea and painful un-stunned slaughter overseas.

[REDACTED].
- The impact of this trade on Australia's international reputation as a fair and compassionate nation - New Zealand's has already ended live export).
- By defending this trade, the public trust in Australia's agricultural sector is undermined as it is so unpopular. What country would support such a barbaric and cruel trade.
- Australians want certainty that this trade will end. The phase-out be legislated and commences in this term of parliament. And that it begins and ends as soon as possible.
