

Live export is a cruel industry that has no place in our society and should have ended a long time ago. [REDACTED]. I was so shocked to hear Australia participates in this cruelty to animals. Even Brazil has banned live export now and our country is corrupt. What is Australia's excuse? There's no way to send thousands of sentient beings on a boat in rough seas for up to 3 weeks in searing heat, cold or rough conditions in a humane way. If they make it to their destination alive they are subject to even more cruelty. How can our Australian animals be slaughtered in countries with no animal welfare laws? This industry is old and tired and Australians want it to end!!!

This is a great opportunity for us to be a better country. We need to cut down on our carbon emissions and one of the best ways will be to transition sheep farmers into growing plants instead. Plant based protein is the future and we need to start investing in it.

The farmers may have you believe they are the victims in this situation but I have attached some images of the real victims of this brutal trade. Everyone I know is against live export, according to polls 3 in 4 Australians want live export to end! We need to ban this because it's what Australians want and the government's job is to represent the people.
