

Why are humans allowed to continue to abuse other beings on this planet?

Farmers that clear land for farming animal flesh are doubly cruel and selfish. They clear the dwindling land of native Australian animals and plants, ruin the ecosystems that have evolved over thousands of years and then put innocent cattle and sheep to live short lives, who are then tortured and abused by being transported from familiar places to be killed for their bodies.

These innocent animals are abused so money can go into the pockets of selfish, narcissistic humans who have no honour or compassion for any other beings but themselves.
