

Live export is a cruel and disgusting industry. Image the fear that these poor animals feel on the journey to the destination. Once at the destination, they are treated viscously and slaughtered in the most inhumane ways.