

I object to the continuing live export of sheep by sea.

It causes horrendous unnecessary suffering for these live animals and such cruelty must cease now. These are not medieval times.

In 2023 we need to develop our compassion for these sentient beings.. they are not objects purely for profit.

The conditions of heat and stress these creatures endure is just no longer acceptable. It pains me to contemplate their suffering and their squalor on these ships.

Susan Stock