Q7. Please select which EU wine geographical indication (GI) your submission is against	Prosecco
Q8. Grounds of objectionA submission against one or more of the wine GIs must be based on at least one of the four grounds of objection.	The EU GI name is used in Australia as the name of a grape variety, plant variety, or an animal breed.
Q9. Please provide further details, based on the grounds of objection for each GI. (If submission based on existing trade mark please provide trade mark number. If submission based on unregistered trade mark please provide evidence of use on Australia).	The use of the term Prosecco is not unique to the Italian region of Prosecco. Prosecco is a grape variety (now often called Glera in Europe) and not a method of production or geographical region such is the case with a wine made in for example Champagne. In fact, the term has been used to describe a variety of sparkling wines made from the same grape variety in countries such as Slovenia and Brazil. As such, it is unnecessarily restrictive to limit the use of the term exclusively to one region and will result in financial harm to the producers in this country.
