Q8. Grounds of objectionA submission against one or more of the wine GIs must be based on at least one of the four grounds of objection.

The EU GI name is used in Australia as the common name for the relevant good, including as a type or style of wine.

The EU GI name is used in Australia as the name of a grape variety, plant variety, or an animal breed.

The EU GI name is identical to, or likely to cause confusion with a trade mark that is registered in Australia or the subject of a pending application made in good faith in Australia.*

The EU GI name is identical to, or likely to cause confusion with, an unregistered trade mark that has acquired rights through use in good faith in Australia. *

Q9. Please provide further details, based on the grounds of objection for each GI. (If submission based on existing trade mark please provide trade mark number. If submission based on unregistered trade mark please provide evidence of use on Australia).

A change of name for Prosecco will cause confusion to the buying public and cause a lack of confidence in buying sparkling wine made in Australia. This will have a massive impact of all places that sell wines - bottle shops, cellar doors, wine bars, etc. This is the name of the grape NOT the GI where the grape is grown - it is NOT Portugal / Port, or Champagne / France. This is a unrealistic approach to the EU and should not be given any value whatsoever.

Q28. OtherAny other information on the impacts EU GIs may have on Australian businesses or industry.

Any change of name for Prosecco will cause lack of confidence in the wine Industry and sparkling wine sales will reduce significantly. Allowing any name change opens to way for more ridiculous, money grabbing ideas and puts a serious blight on the Australian wine industry at a time when the world is recovering from the economic impacts of covid and the wine industry is starting to recover.
