Q7. Please select which EU wine geographical indication (GI) your submission is against

Prosecco

Q8. Grounds of objectionA submission against one or more of the wine GIs must be based on at least one of the four grounds of objection.

The EU GI name is used in Australia as the name of a grape variety, plant variety, or an animal breed.

Q9. Please provide further details, based on the grounds of objection for each GI. (If submission based on existing trade mark please provide trade mark number. If submission based on unregistered trade mark please provide evidence of use on Australia).

Prosecco is a popular and widely available wine in Australia. We ensure we have a cold bottle of prosecco in the fridge for all special occasions, to celebrate with. If the Government agrees to protect Prosecco, and the name for all Prosecco in Australia has to change, how many other grape variety names will then need to change in the future?! Prosecco wine is made from prosecco grapes, as is the same for varieties like Shiraz, Gruner Veltliner, Friulano... I would like to submit this objection wholeheartedly, in the hope that I can continue to call my favourite celebratory wine Prosecco.

Q10. Would you like to make a second selection of EU wine geographical indications (GI)?

Q28. OtherAny other information on the impacts EU GIs may have on Australian businesses or industry.

Almost all of the local wineries make a version of Prosecco. The winery I work for makes ■ different styles of Prosecco. This will impact more than just the changing of a name of wine, for an entire industry, it will create quite a task for those who have already suffered recent losses in the 2020 bushfires (Alpine Valleys Victoria) and covid-19.
