Q6. Entity type

Individual

Q7. Please select which EU wine geographical indication (GI) your submission is against

Prosecco

Q8. Grounds of objectionA submission against one or more of the wine GIs must be based on at least one of the four grounds of objection.

The EU GI name is used in Australia as the name of a grape variety, plant variety, or an animal breed.

Q9. Please provide further details, based on the grounds of objection for each GI. (If submission based on existing trade mark please provide trade mark number. If submission based on unregistered trade mark please provide evidence of use on Australia).

Prosecco has been recognised as the name of a grape for centuries, but not as a geographical indication (GI). There is extensive historical proof of Prosecco being a grape variety. There is a broad International acceptance of Prosecco being a grape variety and not a GI.

Q10. Would you like to make a second selection of EU wine geographical indications (GI)?

No

Q11. Please select the second EU wine GI your submission is against

Q28. OtherAny other information on the impacts EU GIs may have on Australian businesses or industry.

The risks of banning the ability of our industry to use well-established grape variety names are significant and have the potential to cause widespread damage to our sector and the regional communities it underpins." The potential impact on small business and regional areas could have devastating effects.
