

Input document 3: Code scope - legislative sectors and themes

Safety	Environment, culture and heritage	Planning, development and building	Transport	Other
General work health and safety duties and obligations	Environmental impact assessment and approvals	Planning approval prior to commencement of work	Transport of a dangerous good by road, rail or sea	Telecommunications
Major hazard facilities licensing	Water supply licensing and approvals	Construction and building certificates	Pipeline licensing and obligations (outside of the National Gas Law)	Electricity supply and connection (supply from grid or on-site generation)
Hazardous chemicals obligations	Pollution and waste	Site preparation obligations	Design and construction of hydrogen transport equipment	Carbon capture and storage facilities
Gas facility licensing	Native vegetation clearing permits	Temporary construction obligations (e.g.: lay down, fencing, worker sewerage etc.	Port requirements for storage and handling of hydrogen	Geological storage of hydrogen
Gas pipeline safety	Taking or disturbing threatened species	Crown land and pastoral land tenure	UN Agreement Concerning the International Carriage of Dangerous Goods by Road	Creation of ACCUs and other GHG/Carbon reduction credits
Gas (including fuel gas) storage and handling	Aboriginal land rights, Sacred sites, protected sites and Aboriginal cultural heritage	Need for exclusion zones or buffers between facilities of different risk profiles and adjacent land use types	Australian Code for the Transport of Dangerous Goods by Road and Rail
Gas appliance licensing and obligations	Other heritage obligations			