Dear Community Engagement Inquiry,

I write as a citizen of Queensland who is deeply concerned about the threats that climate change will bring to Australia, and the disasters that my grandsons will have to cope with as a result.

I take heart from the transition to wind and solar power, but have read numerous reports about the transmission lines that are planned to cross viable agricultural land. I believe many development proponents have ignored the right of local citizens and communities to participate in decision making and pushed for inappropriate project approval for which the local community suffer the negative impacts of development without a right to have a say or receive any positive benefits.

I applaud the Government's recognition of the problem and its willingness to consult with the Australian public on how to fix it. I hope you recognise that best practice community engagement goes far beyond merely informing communities of decisions already made. It involves pre-decision conversations, including really listening to and addressing the community's needs and concerns. I trust this Review will facilitate and promote this engagement.

Yours sincerely,
