

30.03.2023

We are happy to work with engineered stone with the wet processes in action and look forward to working with low silica engineered stone that is currently in the making as advised by many engineered stone companies in the past month.