The background is a light cream color with several large, black, abstract geometric shapes. These shapes resemble stylized film strips or camera components, with some having curved edges and others being straight lines. The shapes are scattered across the frame, creating a dynamic and industrial aesthetic.

The background consists of a central white circle surrounded by various geometric shapes in yellow, black, and grey. On the left and right sides, there are large yellow rectangles with grey squares inside them, all enclosed within black outlines. The central circle is partially overlaid by these shapes, creating a layered effect.
