

SOLAR STARTS AT YOUNG AT ART

YOUNG AT ART | MUSEUM

751 SW 121st Avenue, Davie

BROWARD COUNTY

Home to the very first SolarNow installation, Young At Art Museum is the perfect place for children to enjoy art while learning about solar energy. You can look up and see solar panels when you park your car under the solar canopy, and then learn about how the sun can generate power when you visit the museum's solar exhibit.

FROM OUR COMMUNITY:

“We are extremely honored that Young At Art Museum was chosen as the first goodwill ambassador for FPL’s new program. Our building is Gold-LEED® certified, and the museum is a teaching facility where we demonstrate environmental responsibility through art education. Children and their families will view the solar panels and discover the importance of having solar energy in our community.”

— Mindy Shrago
Executive Director and CEO

PLANTING THE SEEDS FOR A BRIGHTER FUTURE

FPL SolarNow solar trees and canopies are innovative solar structures created by the community for the community. They provide shade and harness the power of the sun to generate emissions-free energy that benefits all of us while encouraging future generations to learn more about solar energy.
